Sean,

5-28-87

My Baby what's up? Well you made it through the 9th grade as a big freshman! OH NO!! Well anyways I want to tell you that I love you, and that you're real special to me, I hope everything works out for us, so we can make plans for the future, so try your best, and no arguments alright? You know how much I hate to argue right? Well love I hope that you don't get in any trouble this summer like last summer! Take care of yourself and I'll take care of the other part. Okay? I'll see you Love you Lots!

New Construction Hampered September

The Month The Breezeway

Timeless ceiling of the breezeway echos with voices as students start to congregate on the campus. Veteran Seniors watch the Freshmen straying around like lost sheep. Greetings are yelled to friends across streams of people as they start to reunite after a long summer's separation. Experienced students make their way through groups of newcomers who are unwilling to uproot their feet to move to different places making it a maze of confusion for people trying to find their classes. The Frosh got caught up in the initial wave of traffic sweeping off strands of people trying to find their first period class. Both the new and old students were pleasantly surprised when they saw the funeral brown color of the lockers magically changed into a majestic blue.

The new construction caught the imagination of students, it was rumored they were building a second swimming pool or even high rise condominiums. But, to everyone's surprise, it turned out to be an addition to the science building? As the students finally found their first class, they started to dread the inevitable start of the school year. And as the classes were filled and the breezeway emptied, the commencing of school became a realization and the excitement quickly drained.

Fashion met its match September 18, 1986, when school pictures were flashed. The type of shirts most males wore were the kind they 'stole' from their father's closet. The skirts ranged from pastels to shocking pink to wild plaids, while 'holie' faded jeans made the scenes.

Returning to school proved exhausting to Michael Hayes as Teri Gentry stops by to disturb his rest.

"Yes we have spirit", yells Junior Kristin Rockwell at the first pep rally. The rally was held between 2nd & 3rd hour classes.

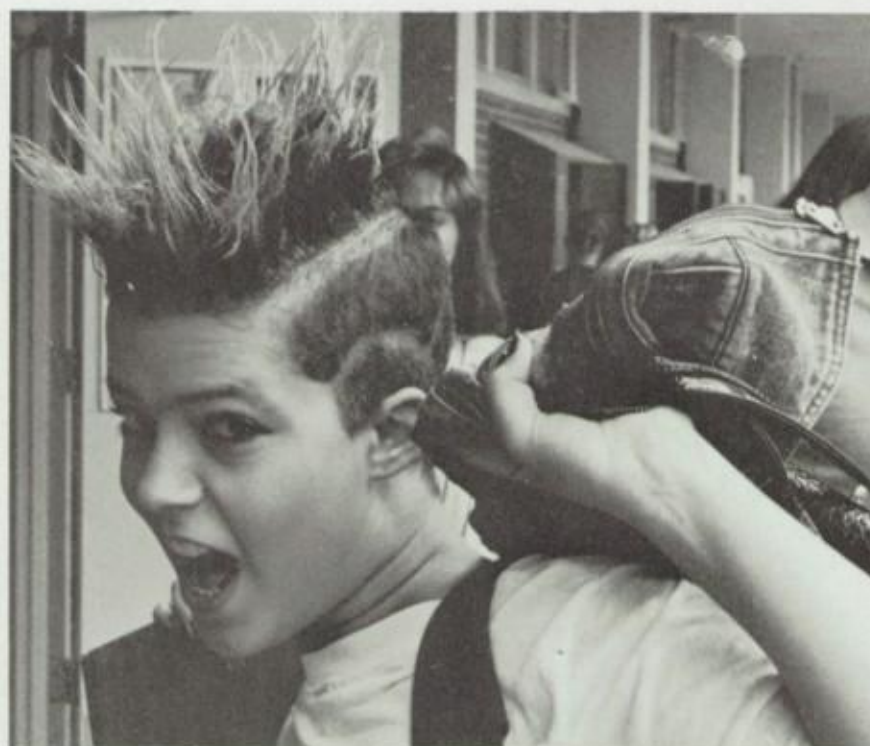

Caught leaving the coke machine, Chip Pitcher heads toward his English class.

The Library provided a quiet place for Heather Vestal to do research for her first paper.

Stephanie Patchett screams to a friend as she prepares to dash down the hallway.

Football power-members of the Varsity team prove their strength by lifting and carrying the bleachers.

while faded jeans made the scenes. Then came bejewelled sweatshirts you could have a party in or blind someone with. Bright stockings with designs that would make Picasso turn in his grave were a big hit. Then came the shoes with such high heels they made the Jolly Green Giant look short and rainbow high tops were high style. In line for pictures, whispers were heard that one should not jump because you might hit the spikes of a super-glued mohawk! They ranged from one inch baby spikes to one foot. Blue and pink were the new hair colors. Then there were weighted earrings so long they could swat a fly with one turn of the head. Foundation make-up so thick it would make a good skislope, was popular. Eyeshadows ranged from earthtones to neons or the eyelids glittered when it was sunny. Also seen were colored mascara with colored contacts to match! Most people came to school pictures to see what's hot in the bizarre world of fashion. They were not disappointed.

One way to find out if a wall has leaks is to have it rain. That is just what happened September 23, 1986, at the Open House. An open house is where students' parents get lost trying to find their kids' classes and get soaked from the rain. When they found the classes, they were privileged to hear the teachers deliver a much repeated speech. The parents then went home both educated and wet.

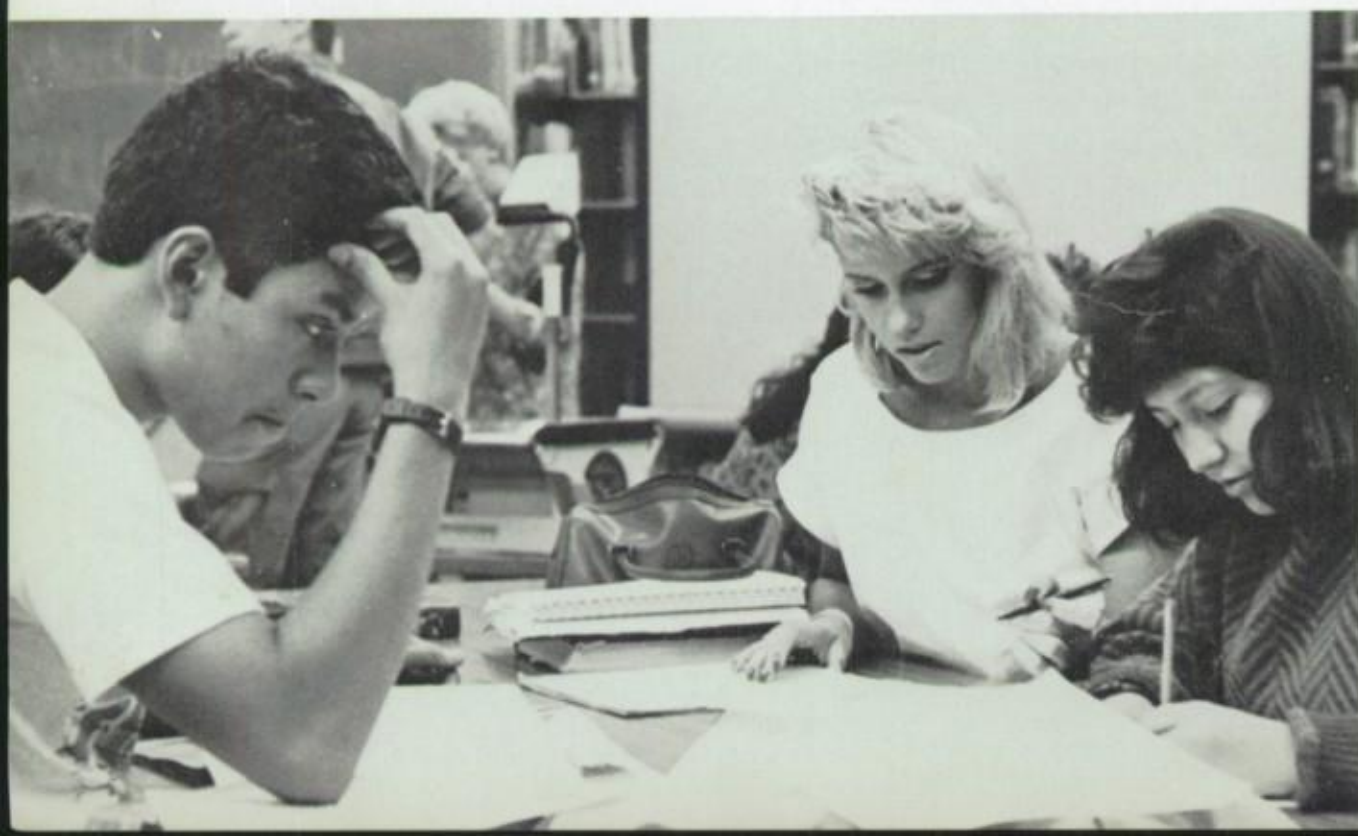

Everybody has heard of the library, but no one was sure it existed, because students were not allowed in during September. Classes were held in the library, while the construction people finished the new science building. Even though no one could see the career center, it was there behind the doors of the missing library. They had jobs that ranged from babysitters to heart surgeons, unfortunately no one knew it. Or if people liked being in a spotlight and making a fool of themselves in front of thousands of people, then they must have been in Masque and Gavel. They had tryouts for "The Fool", a play by Neal Simon. The drama people kept the school in stitches with their plays. Oh yes - the library was finally found by a lost student towards the end of the month.

Edie Lundeen, Bohdy Hedgecock and Mike Martin pause to enjoy the last of the warm September weather.

Homework started early as Jerry Gomez, Barbara Geaham and Patricia Islas learn to use their new textbooks.

It's Wednesday, because Alan Harrington must wear his ROTC uniform.

The early bird usually catches the worm unless the marching band is practicing at 6:45 in the morning. While the band was practicing Wednesday morning inspection was going on for JROTC. All this pre-dawn excitement ended as school began. Eventually the clubs were organized, and included Ski Club with outings to the snow and slopes. The Ice Skating Club practiced at Tower Plaza. Then there was the outspoken Debate Team and the Chess Club, though quieter, were just as skillfull. Both got their respective points across!

There goes the bird followed by a badminton player attempting to hit it as they practiced for two hours after school, also sharing the gym was the spiking volleyball players. If people travelled to the Biltmore they must have been with the swingin' golf teams. Running away from the school was the cross country team setting a new record for arriving at 7-11 first.

The sport spectrum would not be complete without football. The rough, tough players tackled each other after school to get ready for the football season. Chicken pox caught Kevin Miniefield before the St. Mary's game. The team still gave it their best effort even if they lost. But better still, the first two games of the season they gave up less than 100 yards to the opponents, proving the Spartans are still the best.

Let's not end September on a sour note, we had rip roarin' fun at the assembly and as the leaves changed their colors everyone slipped into the school beat.

A speaker explains the purpose of S.A.D.D.

JROTC

JROTC followed a tough schedule during September.

These included:

Ranger and recon team tryouts

Ranger qualification field training

Exercise at 7 Springs for three days

10km forced march

Physical training

Repelling down cliffs

Constructing and crossing rope bridges

Drill team and Rifle team tryouts

October did not get any easier for JROTC. They did:

Began 6 Month Officer Candidate School

Participated in Pumpkin Parade

Provided a ROTC cadet "tunnel" at all home football games

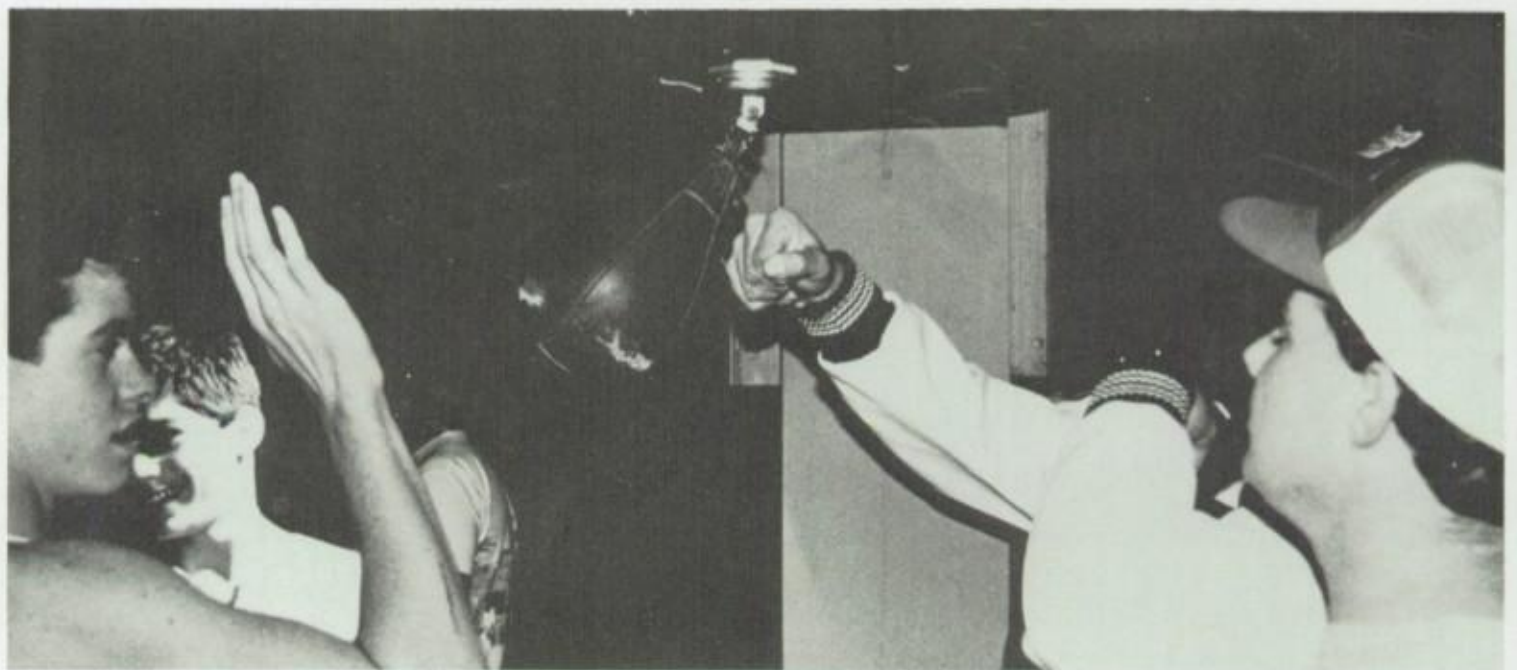

Honor Unit With Distinction award presented by Dr. Dyer (Best in PUHD)

Taking a nose dive into the opponent is Darrin Gasteleum with Billy Hardy racing to assist on the tackle.

This year, Camelback went through a 'face lift'. Many rooms were remodeled and new ones were constructed. Some rooms were increased by ten feet and have more storage space. Brand new ceilings, floors, and cabinets were installed, giving the rooms a new appearance.

Five new science rooms were completed in the second semester, adding to the space, along with a new lecture room for physical education. P.E. also had new steel doors placed so the noise level would decrease.

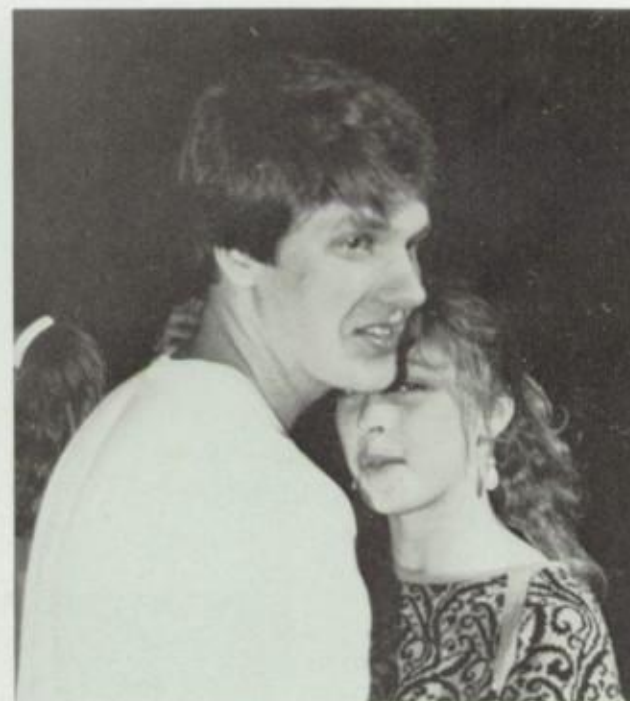

"It's so exciting to get extra space and new buildings that it is worth the hassle and inconvenience," replied Mr. Powers, assistant principle, when asked how he felt about the construction on campus. He also said that he expected to reach the goal of January first for the construction to end. This includes art and home economics rooms, all bathrooms, the snack bar, and the new interior of the cafeteria.

Practicing his punching at the safe party is Brandon Paul. Behind him is Kevin Zoltan talking with a friend.

Smiling for the birdie are Raina Pongratz, Julie Clark, Staci Shoaf, Julie Curran, Kristen Rockwell, Heather Wilt, Cori Levine, and Jenean Merkel

"This year's football team has the best attitude of any team I've ever coached," exclaims Coach Kellen. Teamwork is a key to success in any sport, and this team works together.

Playing football is important. It develops physical stamina, self-confidence, and team-work. Winning a game is the obvious reward for practicing long, hard hours. Our reward was that no points were scored against us for the first two games this season.

Looking happy for her birthday is Jennifer Duxbury and her friend Stephanie Lantz.

Dancing to their own music is Mitch Dorn and Hollie Thompson.

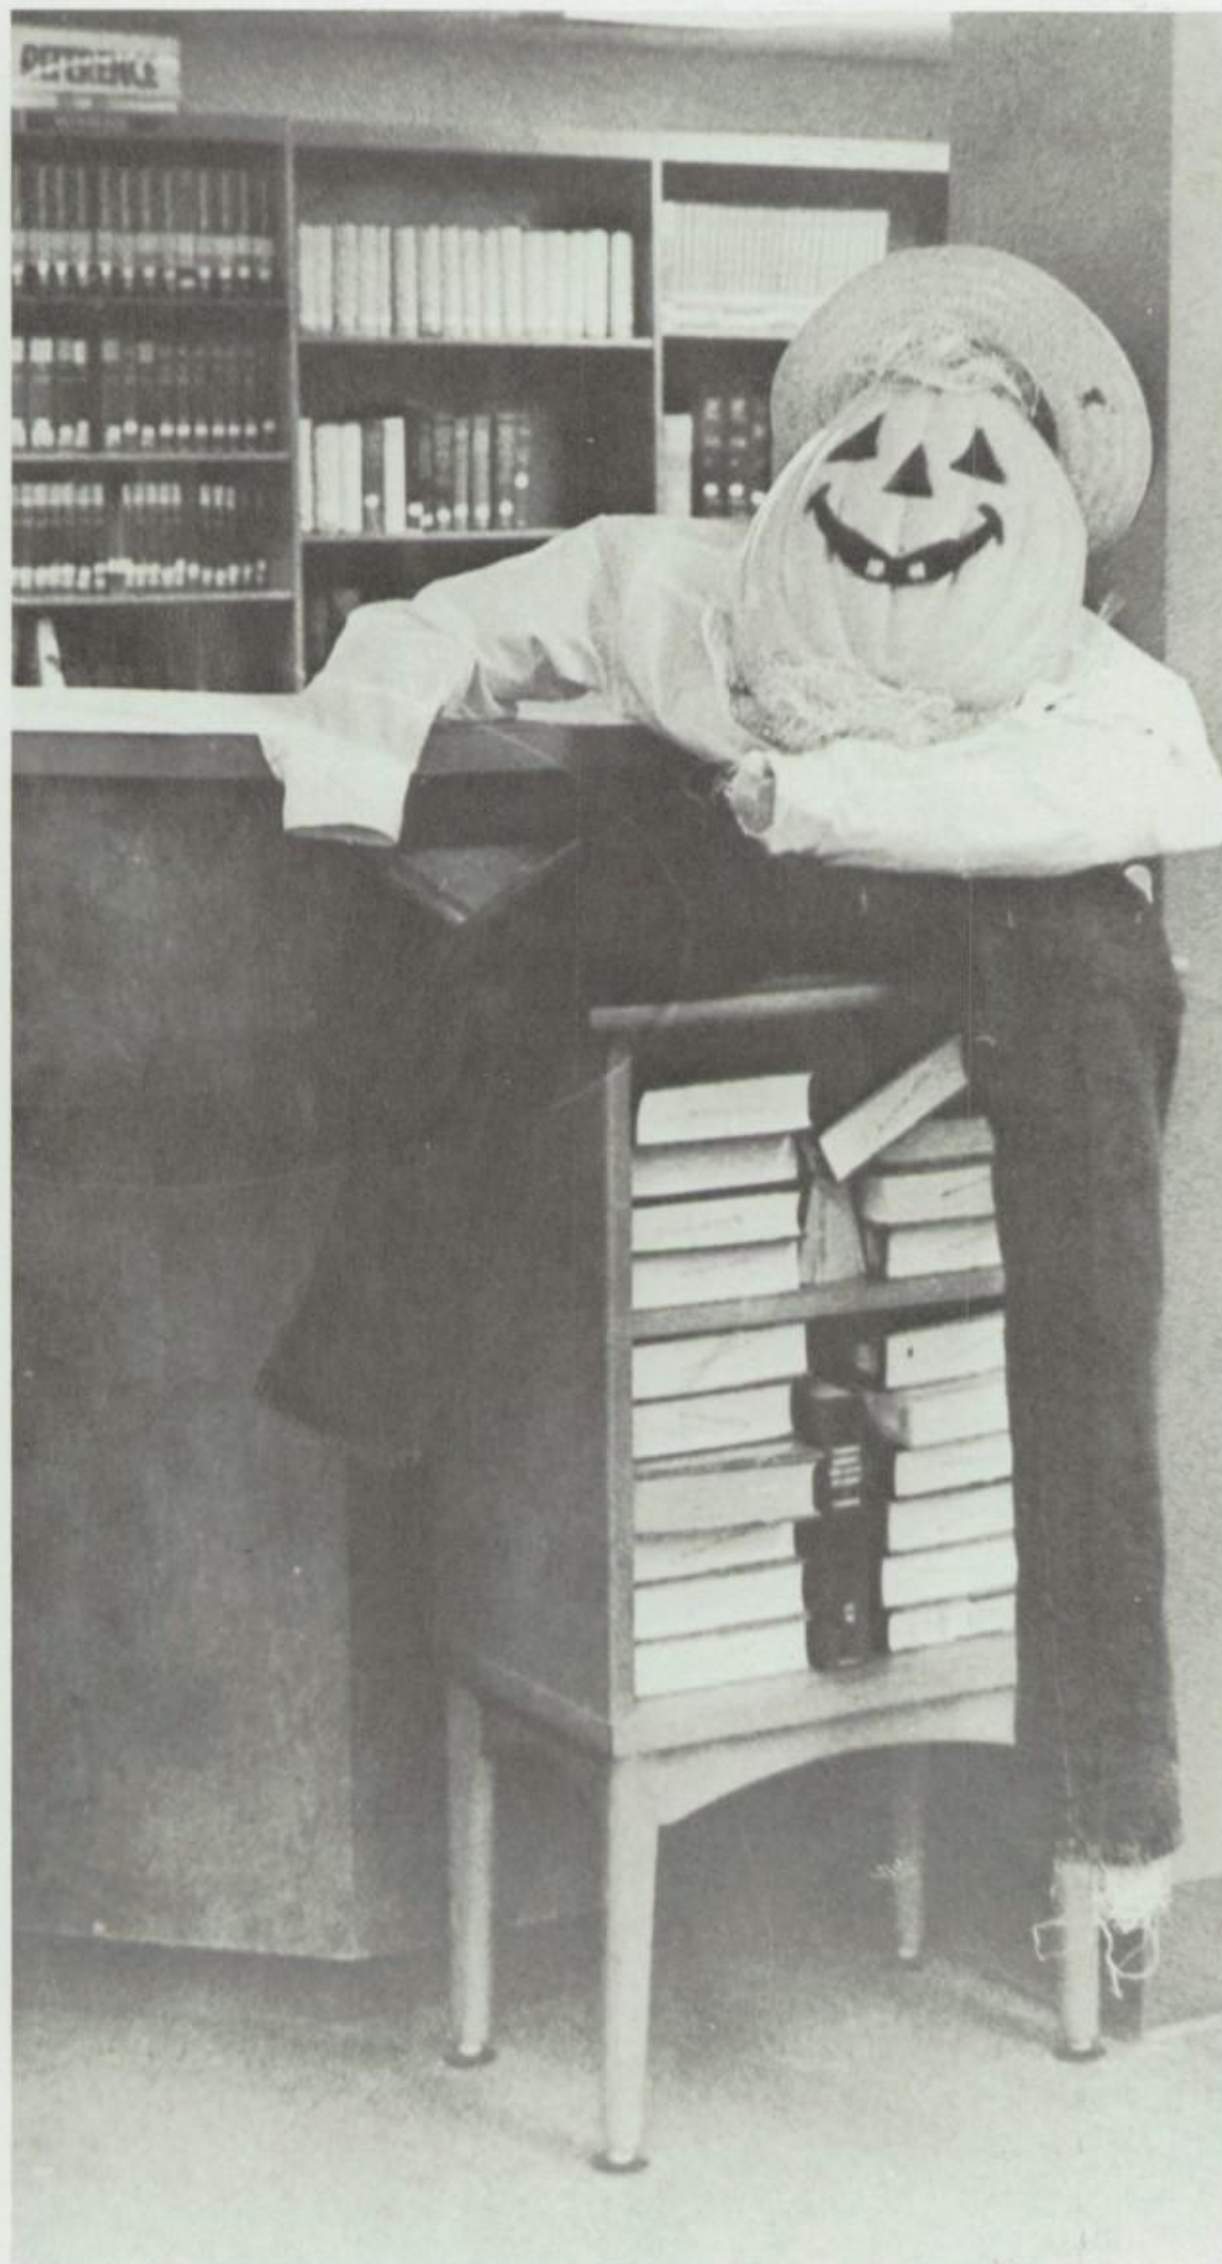

Clutching the football and running for dear life is the inevitable Russ Mortenson.

Rust colored leaves fell to the ground as the feet shuffled by and made their routine journeys to class. October brought many changes. Chemistry classes were relocated to their newly remodeled rooms. The temperatures dropped as students were getting used to the new school year.

As school changed, so did the news of the world. Called a "great disappointment," the summit between Reagan and Gorbachev was held in Ireland. Gorbachev demanded tougher limits on the Star Wars Program, leading Reagan to refuse the Russian's ploy for front page headlines, and negotiations abruptly ended. Before the meeting ended, it produced an across-the-board agreement on arms control with heavy cuts in strategic nuclear weapons and the complete elimination of medium range missiles in Europe.

For the past few years, the marxist government of Mozambique has slowly tilted toward the west. Now an untimely tragedy could cause a relinquent. Flying from Zambia in a Soviet made TU-134 jet, the Mozanlician President, Samora Machel crashed in South America. The accident killed 54 people including Machel.

Octoberfest was celebrated by Germans all around the world. The end of October brought Halloween with all its witches, goblins, and things that go bump in the night.

While the New York Mets beat the Boston Red Sox for the Baseball World Championship, our own football team beat Central at Homecoming. During half-time the royal couple was announced. The queen was Tammye Devorce and the king was Clifford Gaines. To everyone's delight the badminton team made it to the divisionals. Lotte Dock led the pack and placed second at State.

According to the volleyball coach, Sass, the varsity volleyball team had a "very successful season." They won State!

All the hopeful cross-country runners were disappointed when a new coach could not be found. October sports showed everyone Camelback's school spirit was on high.

Steam slowly rises from the majestic looking turkey. Stuffing pours out of the fowl as the smell of yams starts making everyone's mouth water. Decorations of pilgrims with pumpkins by their side line the walls. These remembrances of the past are of a Thanksgiving dinner. The aftermath of this scene is one of people too full of food to move. When the pilgrims started giving "thanks" for their harvest did they want the future generations to put food in their mouths without knowing why? Featured at the first Thanksgiving dinner was deer meat, pumpkin, and corn. Now we have turkey, cranberry sauce, and potatoes. The idea of giving thanks has continued through the years. Though the dinner has changed a little, the concept of overeating has not.

- 20-31 WINTER RECESS

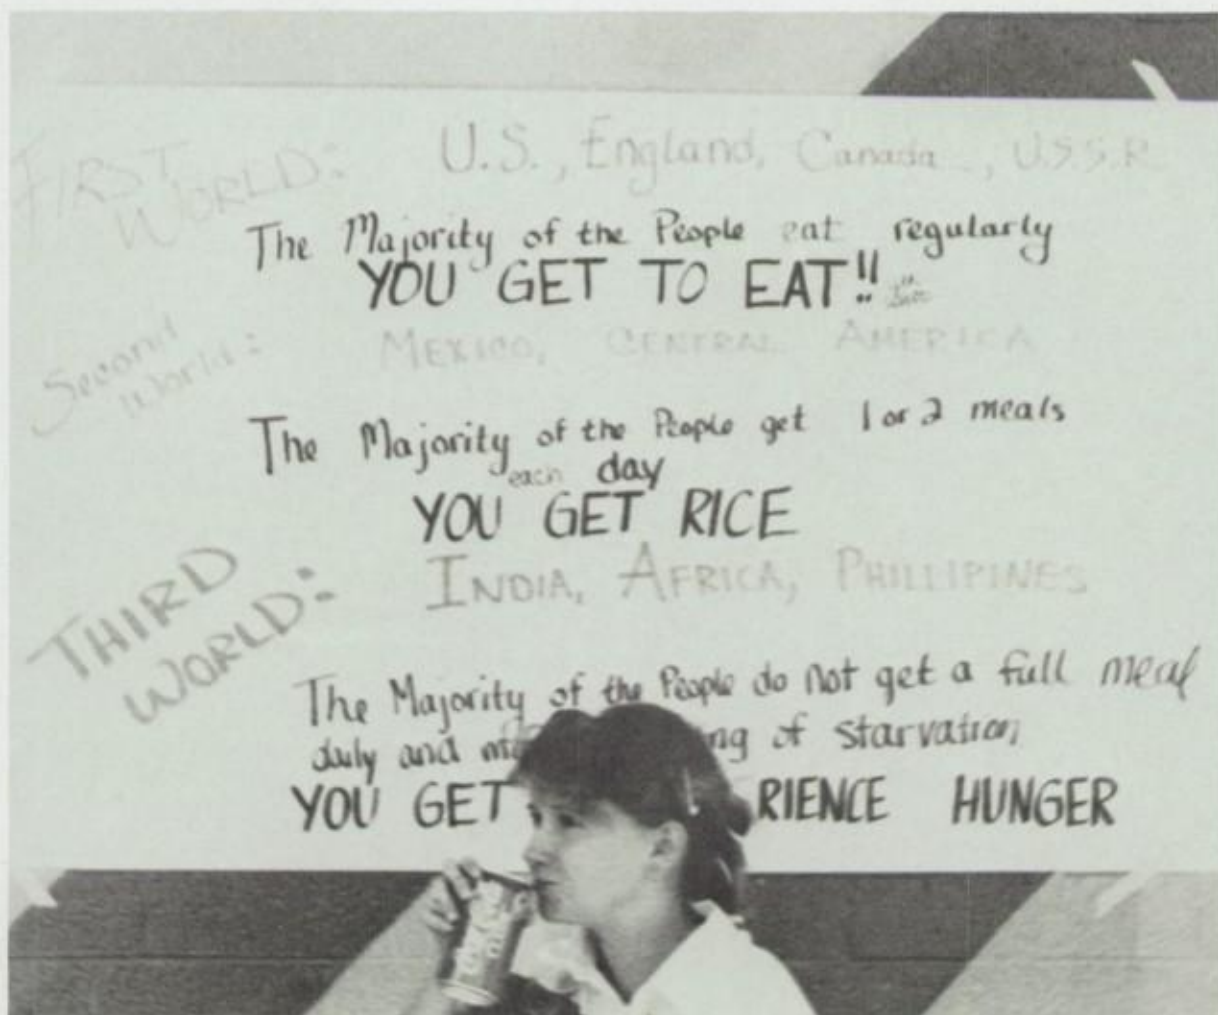

Stephanie Darnell, Christy Thomas, and April Crowell strut their stuff in winter drama production.

The word Christmas evokes many a happy thought: vacation, presents, food, Christmas trees . . . When Christmas comes upon us here at Camelback, bright decorations gaily glitter in the Cafeteria, a Christmas tree is drole and round as Santa himself twinkles with dancing lights. The counseling and registration offices are brightened with colorful posters and tinsel.

Celebrations began with a Christmas dance concert held on December 4. The hard working members of the dance club had an opportunity to show off their skill. The Camelback Christmas dance was held on December 12 and students had a chance to get down and Jingle Bell Rock. DECA sponsored a canned food drive for St. Vincent de Pauls and Camelback students really showed their good will.

A lighter mood became evident in the jaunty steps of students. The importance of homework paled in the face of the forthcoming two week vacation. Indeed, here at Camelback we have got the spirit, the Christmas spirit that is!

Drinking a pop in front of the Oxford America banner is Wendy Calaway.

The 1986 girls badminton team had a very fun and exciting season. Including the new coach, Mrs. Johnson, and a lot of new players.

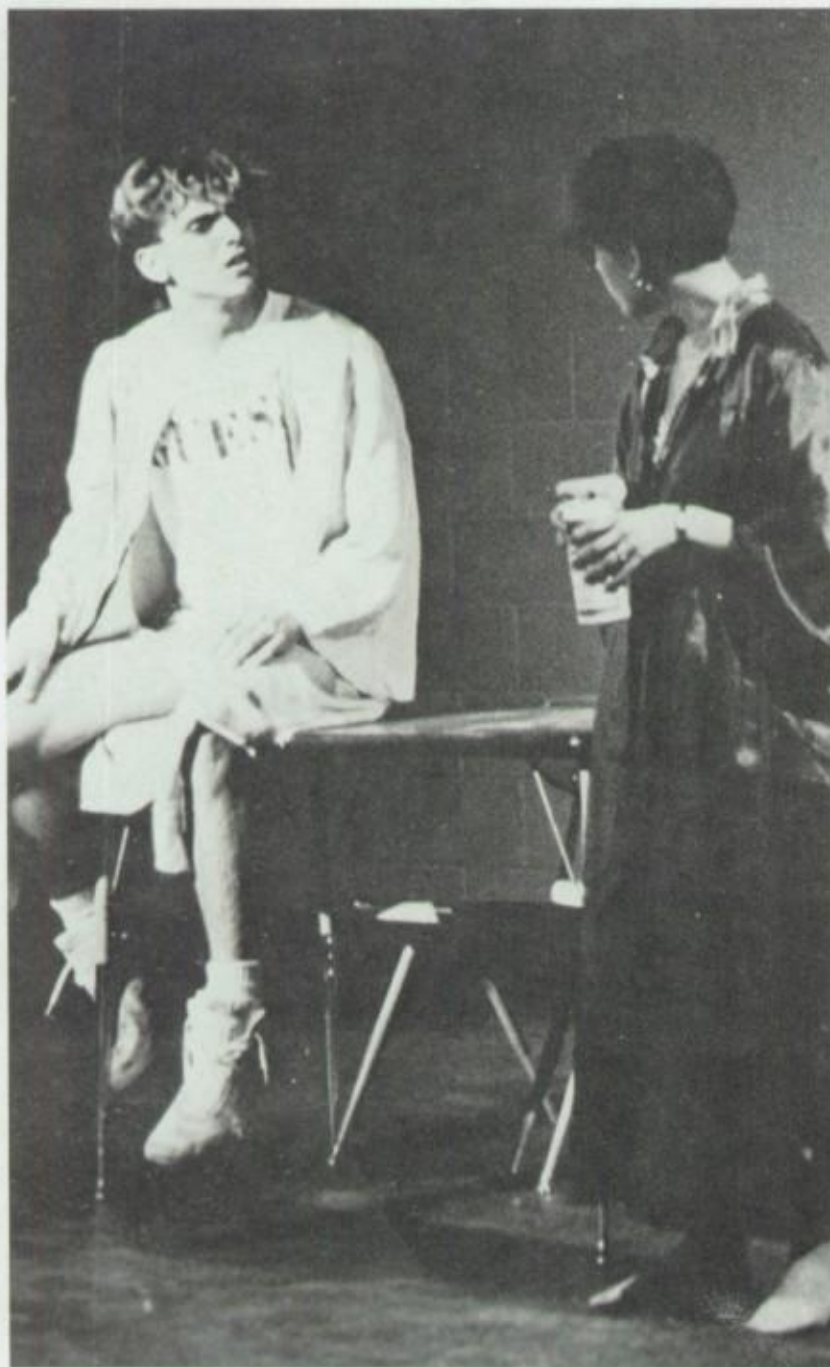

Lotte Dock, who played 1 varsity all season, went to the Metro Division and took second place. The girls were very proud of her. Lotte was a foreign exchange student from Denmark and had played in Denmark, where she enjoyed the sport very much. Lotte had a very good attitude while playing. She would encourage the other girls to go out there and do their best, which is exactly what she did herself. When state finals came around on November 7, Lotte took fourth in the State. The girls will always remember Lotte, and the one thing that they will remember the most is that she did her best for Camelback.

On November 22, the Camelback Volleyball team took the State Championship in Tucson, Arizona. To achieve this fame, the girls had to practice six days a week and learn new skills. Everyone saw these extra hours of hard work pay off. The school showed its appreciation by giving the team a special pep assembly and letting the entire school out early.

The new governor of our state was elected November 2, 1986. The candidates were Carolyn Warner (Democrat), Bill Schultz (Independant), and Evan Mecham (Republican). And the winner was . . . Evan Mecham. He was inogurated as governor January 5, 1987. He arrived with sweeping changes. Among the changes were the deletion of a state holiday honoring Martin Luther King Jr., balancing the budget by cutting funds to education and the Department of Public Safety, and freezing the salary of government officials. His opinion on people who worked as executives for the state was that they were expected to make sacrifices and not get rewarded financially.

Starting January 1, 1987 all employees must complete a new Federal Tax Withholding Form, also known as a W-4 Form. The importance in filling out this form is to ensure you that your employer will not withhold too much or too little tax from your pay. The W-4 form asks usual questions such as name, address, city, state, social security number, marital status, job occupation and position, and also annual income.

This new W-4 makes for sure the IRS takes out enough taxes from your salary, though it looks hard, in truth it is pretty easy.

The Arizona Republic

By Dick Obert

At virtually every Camelback basketball game, a college coach is in the stands to watch Kevin Miniefield.

Several times this season, Arizona coach Lute Olson has seen the 5-foot-10 junior point guard. There also have been coaches from Iowa, Kansas, and Louisville in attendance.

Miniefield has been receiving letters from college coaches since he was selected the top defensive player at Olson's summer camp during his freshman year. Miniefield acknowledges his qualities would not be so appealing if not for his best friend and teammate, 6-4 senior Clifford Gaines.

Gaines' rebounds let Miniefield take full advantage of his open-court, cat-quick skills, and Miniefield's feeds allow Gaines to show off his leaping ability.

With those two together, Camelback, (No. 1 Super 10 and AAA-1) is a hit. Separate them, and the show is a flop.

Carl Hayden, which beat Camelback (12-2), 65-51, on Tuesday night, has been the only team to contain the two this year. They have had much better nights, and expect many more.

Earlier in the year Miniefield had a career-high 40 points against Alhambra, the save night Gaines had 14 rebounds.

"I'm glad Kevin is attracting a lot of coaches to the games," said Gaines, who has received the letters but not the grades that make him attractive to major colleges. "They come to watch Kevin, so I'm going to play my best."

In Camelback's 75-63 loss to South Mountain this year, Miniefield said he felt lost after Gaines went out early because of an injured knee.

"We feel comfortable with each other," Miniefield says. "When Clifford comes out, it feels funny. It takes away my ability to penetrate. They really don't respect it when Clifford is not in there. If I dish off, they feel they don't really have a person they have to respect on the receiving end."

"Clifford creates a lot of points for me because they have to respect him inside. When they sag off and cover him, that's an easy jumper for me. Or if they come out, I can drive and just give it to him."

Miniefield leads AAA in scoring with a 23.3 average. It's a statistic that doesn't inspire him. He would rather get the assist than the points, he says. He is averaging 10 assists and seven steals.

"I don't realize I'm scoring that much," Miniefield says. "I come out of the game thinking I have two points when I have 22. I'd rather get the assist, a sweet pass, and let Clifford ooh and awe the crowd with his dunks."

Gaines, who is averaging 16.5 points and 14 rebounds, smiles at the thought.

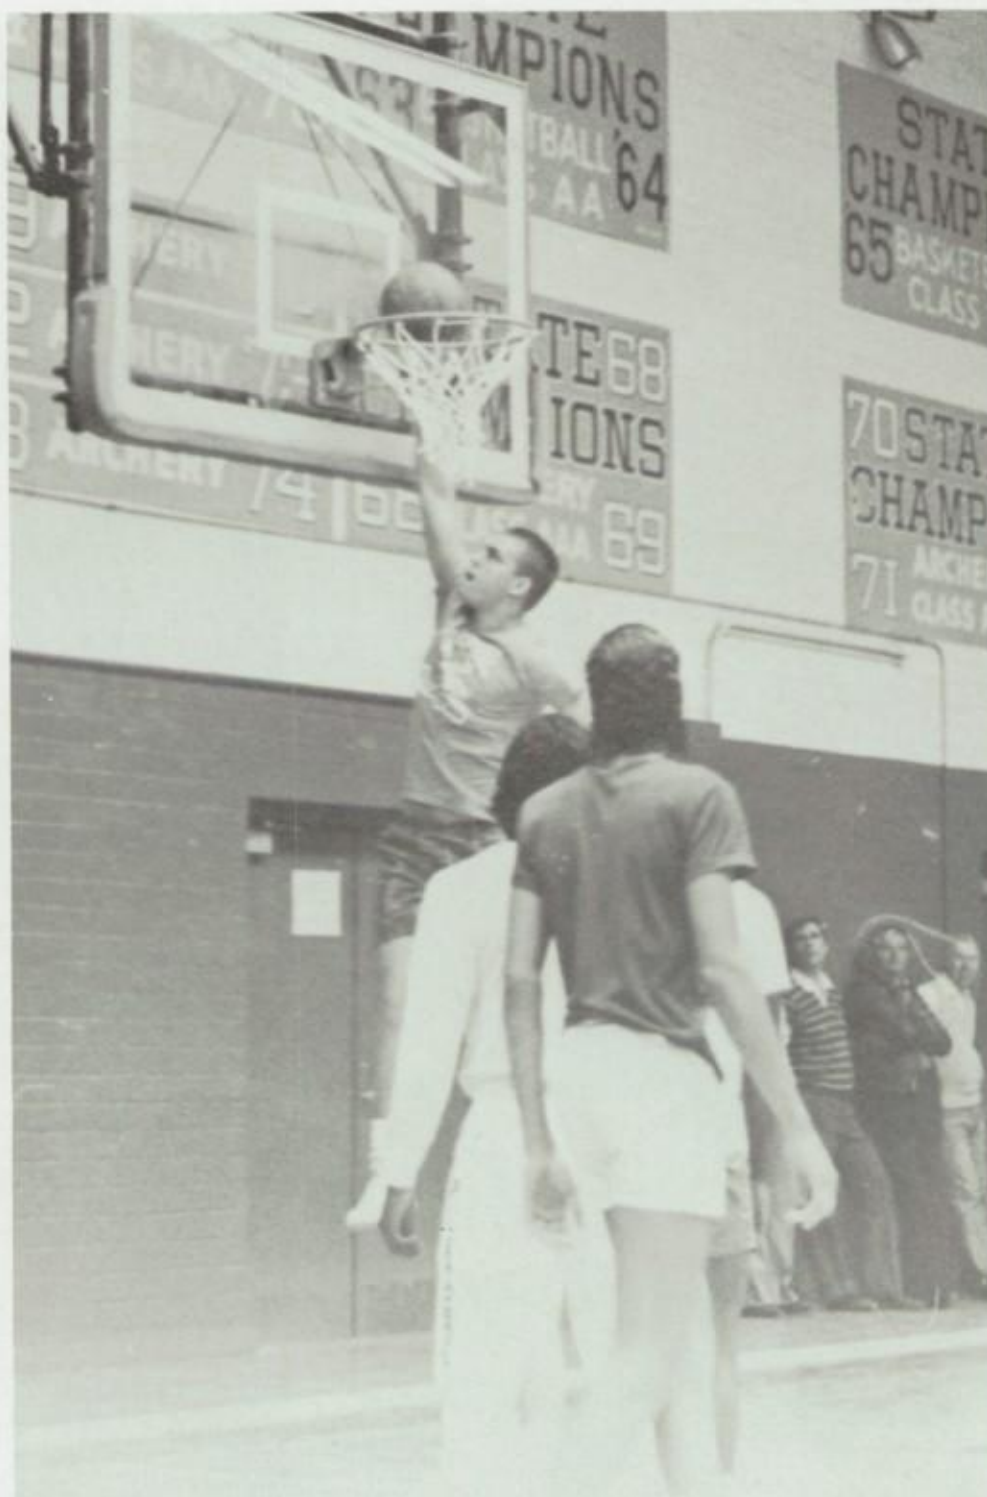

"I like his passes," Gaines says. "It makes me a much better player. His passes are always right there."

Camelback coach Frank Madura planned two years ago, when Miniefield was a freshman and Gaines a sophomore, to build around those two.

"I remember when Clifford was a freshman, some kid came up to me and said, 'Coach, the franchise just showed up on campus, P'" Madura says. "He would dunk as a freshman."

The nucleus came together when Miniefield arrived. He was brought up to the varsity halfway through his freshman season. Both Miniefield and Gaines averaged more than 15 points.

"I remember seeing Kevin in a BCI tournament one summer," Madura said. "He was trying to steal the ball, and he ran by the guy. Before the guy had taken three steps, Kevin came around and stole the ball from the back side. That was quick."

With "Amazing Grace", Buz Stillman 'dunks' the basketball as the rest of the team watches.

The crowd holds their breathe as Clifford Gaines makes a free-throw.

After circling #23 on the opposing team, Kevin Miniefield heads the ball toward the hoop.

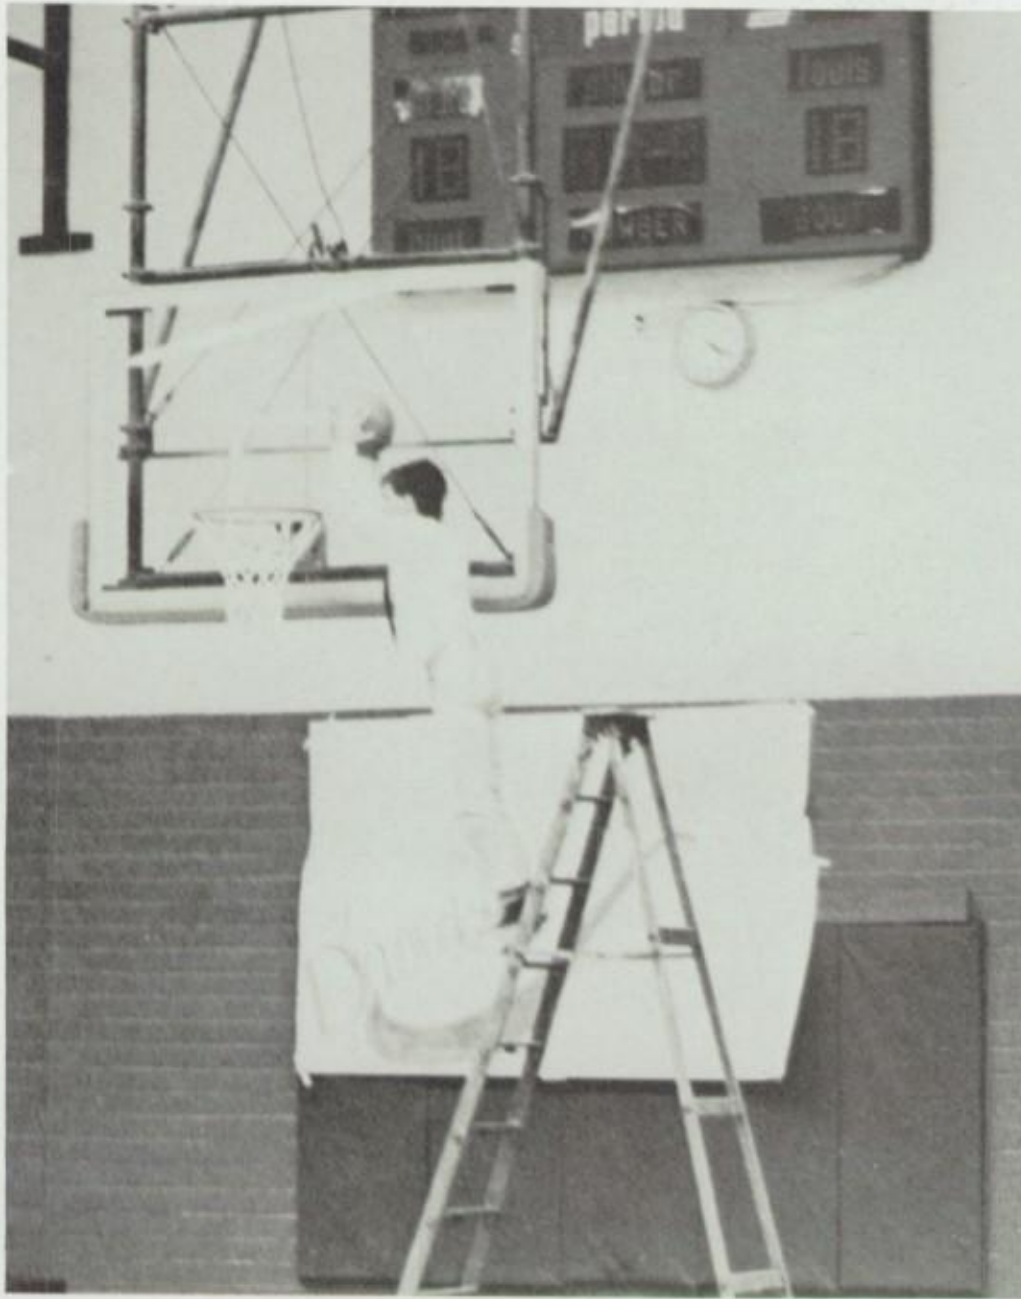

Brian Stevens lays up the ball as Scott Brown watches to make sure the ball goes through the hoop.

"Play Ball", yells the umpire, as a member of the girls softball team swings at the ball.

The Sure Fire Way To Study For Finals

January reminds people of the cold weather, fireplaces, New Year, and dreaded school finals. No one fretted or feared when finals came near this year.

Studying tips were on the lips of students as January 21 and 22 rolled around. To get a guaranteed "A" on a final exam it was rumored one of the first steps was to open up the book and then read it. Many students sidestepped this and tried the mystic ways, closing their eyes and visualizing the material, if it stayed closed then they were meant to be. (Most of these people have agreed to stay on an extra year at school).

Another way was to put your book under your pillow and go to sleep on it, in the morning you will know the entire book or more likely you'll end up with a headache the size of Mt. Rushmore. One more study method was to cram the whole semester work into one night before the final. (Unfortunately the majority of these people slept through their exams.) These study tips were tried-tested-failed. That only means that old fashioned studying is the sure fire way to study for final exams.

Jeff Chruma, Steve Millhouse, and Brian Brown were all a part of the David Letterman band.

Senior Class- Officers, Council

It is a tradition of the school to have the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes build floats for Homecoming. Unfortunately the Seniors did not win the contest.

The big events of the year were choosing the Senior mosts, class graduation announcements, and caps and gowns. They also planned a Senior Banquet in May. Many class members attended the Junior-Senior Prom at the Juniors expense.

We didn't get our pictures taken for the yearbook, so we asked Elizabeth Sable to do it, commented Jeanene Satovich, Martin Velasquez and Tanja Mrda.

Looking serious, Grace Foster takes the Drama cash box to the bookstore. "What is the deal? It was easy walking across campus."

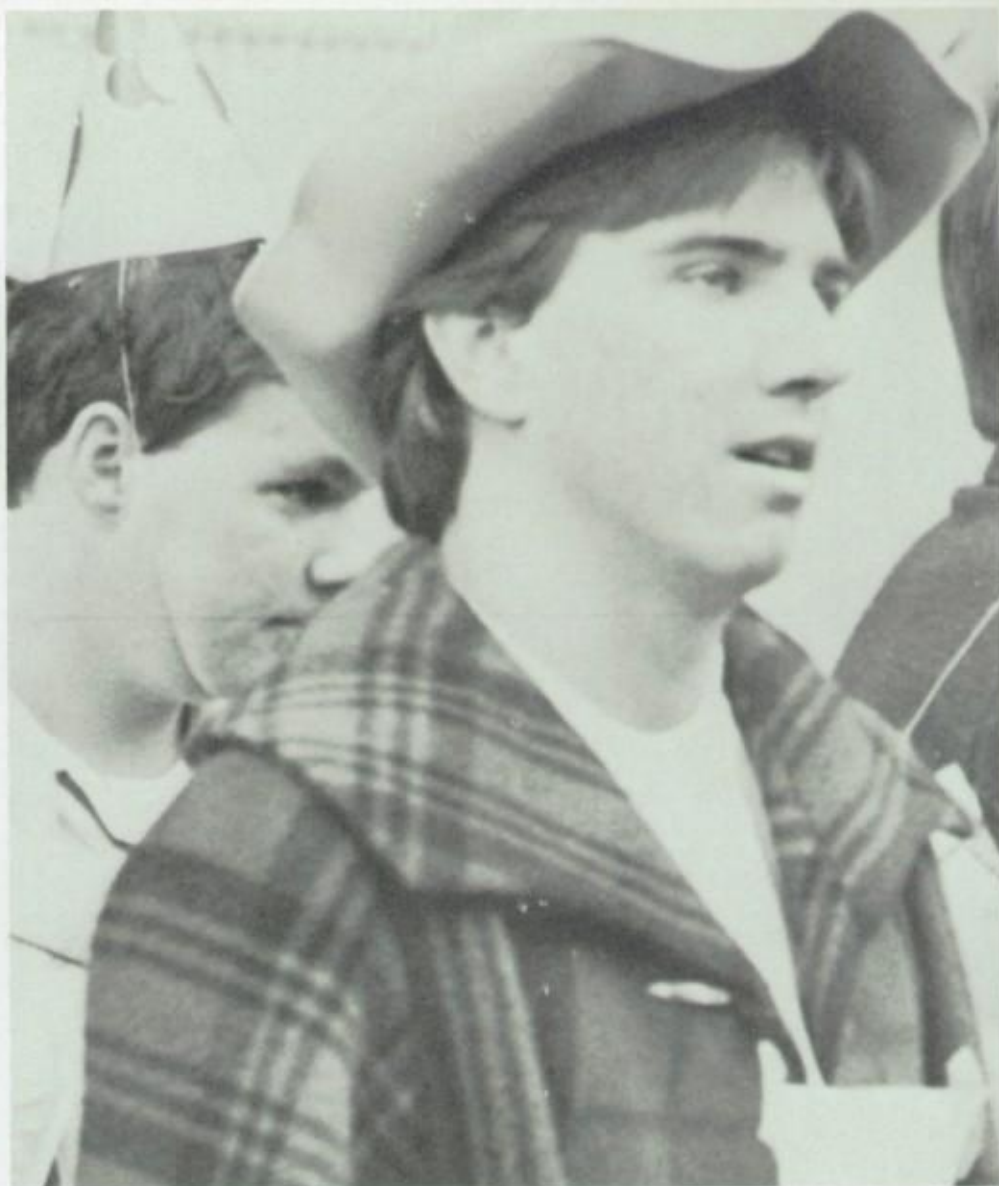

"Why are you taking my picture? I'm just dumping my trash," says Tressi Loria.

"Ahh, you shouldn't have? I do know the difference between a book and a typewriter," stated Juan.

Loretta Core is playing Peek-a-Boo with Mr. McDermott in typing class.

You can take the hillbilly out of Matt Spicer, but you can't take away his National Honor Society pin! He survived the initiation.

Brian Foxx thinks he is really cool, Tom Reardon thinks that he is the coolest of all, but Mike Stewart knows he is really the coolest of all!

Heather Finke shows off her exciting new walking technique for her classmates.

"Time to make the doughnuts!" says Rolon Culver as he hallucinates that he is working for Dunkin' Doughnuts.

Jennifer Calvin is getting prepared to show off some new skateboard techniques on her new ramp for her friends Margie Potter and Kelly Corsette.

Outstanding

The title of Outstanding Senior is a hard one to fill. There are many students at Camelback, perhaps a friend of yours or someone in one of your classes, who have spent much time and effort to promote Spartan Spirit. A lot of credit should be given to those who have given so much to Camelback. The Spartan Shield would like to recognize those Outstanding Seniors and applaud them for a job well done. Congratulations!

Macky Bowers has been a reporter for the Blade for one year and Photo Editor for two years. She has been involved with Interact and National Honor Society for two years and Quill and Scroll for three years. She is also in Spanish National Honor Society, Young Republicans, Secretary of Camelback's chapter of SADD, a Historian and volunteered for food drives.

Camille Warfel has been on the Spartan Blade for three years, two of which she has been involved in Quill and Scroll, National Honor Society, Interact, Inner Club Council, Class Council, and volunteered for many food drives.

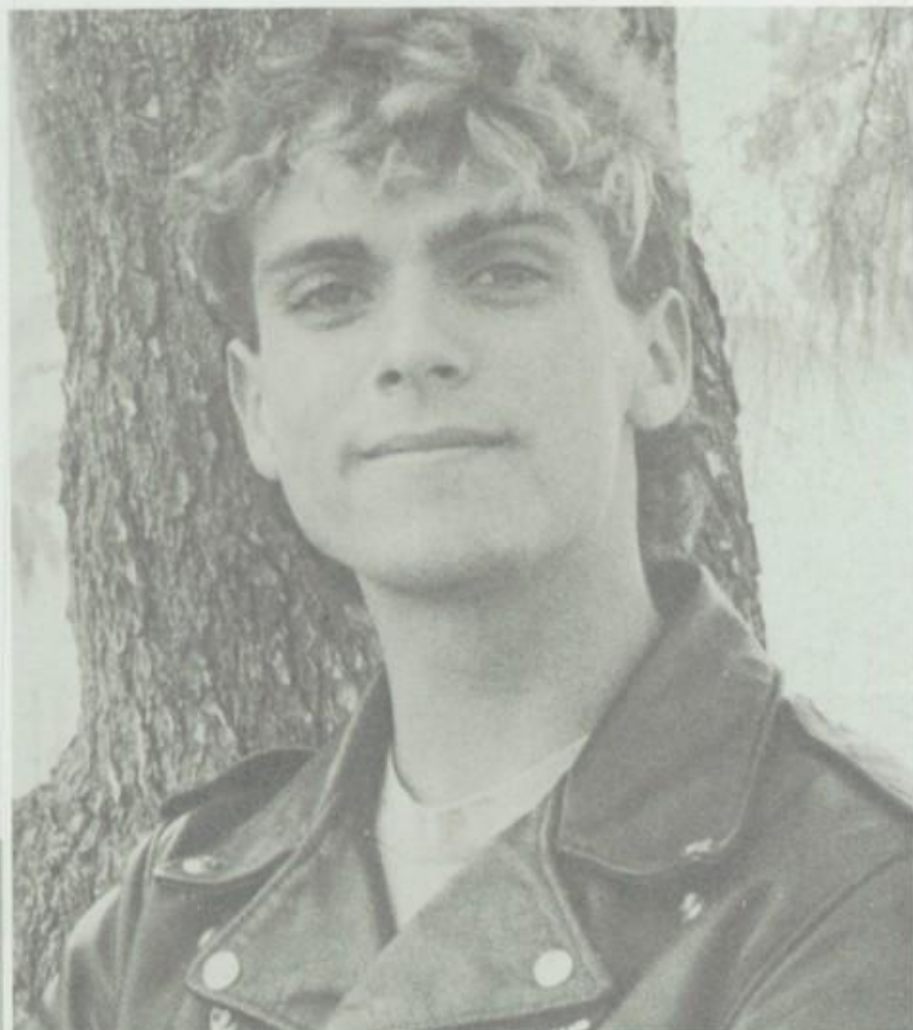

Michelle Bugh has been involved with the Marching Band, Concert Band, Class Council, and Student Senate for four years. She has been a reporter for the Blade for two years and the Feature Editor for one year. She has also been in the Ski Club for three years and Quill and Scroll for two years.

Mike Butterfield has been in The Miracle Worker, Done to Death, Joseph Andrews, Summer and Smoke, David and Lisa, Don't Drink the Water, Masterpieces, Fools, and Diary of Anne Frank. He has won state competitions in duo-acting during his four years participating in speech. He is also Vice President of Masque and Gavel.

Mike Stewart Has been in Joseph Andrews and Summer and Smoke. His hard work in speech and drama took him to the State Theater and Speech Tournament for Duo-acting.

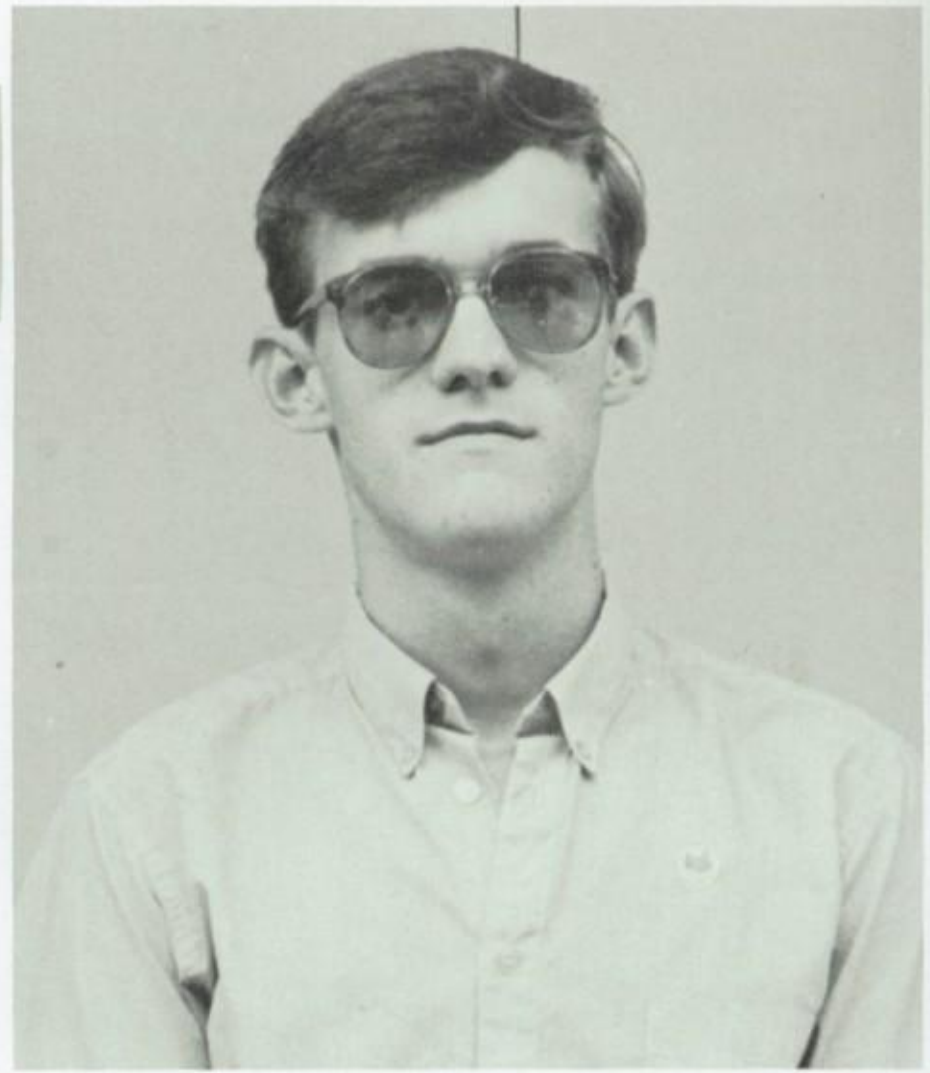

Grace Foster has been in speech and debate for four years. She has participated in Model U.N., Close-Up, National Honor Society, and National Forensic League. She was a Masque and Gavel Officer.

Holly Hazlett has played in Camelback bands for four years. She has been in Masque and Gavel, on cast and crews for plays, and competed with the speech team for the last three years.

Alisa Wabnik was the Editor of the Spartan Blade, President of Interact, President of National Honor Society, ranked number two in the senior class, National Merit Finalist, and member of the Academic Decathlon team.

Kirk Hawkins has been ranked number one in his class for four years. He has participated in Spanish National Honor Society for three years and has been in Interact Club (Vice President), International Club, National Honor Society (Vice President), class council, and Academic Decathlon for two years. He has also been a Model U.N. Delegate, Boys State Delegate, member of the Mock Trial Team, member of S.A.D.D. He was also the yearbook cover artist.

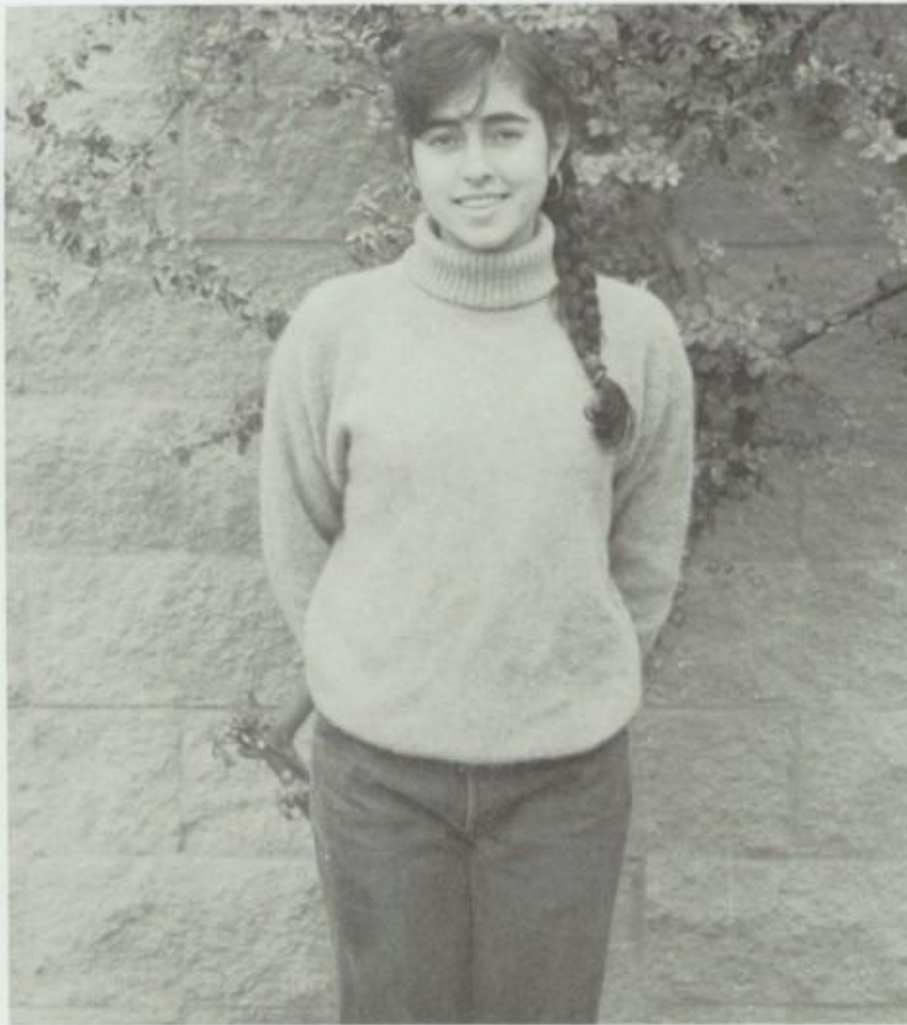

Fiona Brophy has participated in volleyball, Ski Club, and Class Council for four years. She has been the Assemblies Chairman and vice president of the Student Body. Fiona has also been in National Honor Society for two years, Spanish National Honor Society, and Girls State.

Bohdy Hedgecock has contributed to student government as Senior Class Vice President. He is also a member of National Honor Society.

Philip Wolfson has been in The Mircle Worker, Joseph Andrews, Summer And Smoke, David and Lisa, and Diary of Anne Frank. He has gone to state speech and theater tournaments in duo-acting all four years; including winning first place in the state his sophomore year. He is the President of Masque and Gavel.

Junior Senior Prom

The Junior class council and officers put a lot of work into the prom. Besides the money raised from the sale of CBHS t-shirts, candy, popsicles and various other desirable items. The class council worked in the bookstore all summer and donated their salaries to the Junior class. The prom was held at Lowe's Paradise Valley Resort. Instead of the traditional palms and ferns, this year's prom had a Tropical theme that was supplemented with appropriate food and decorations. It was designed to transport prom goers to a tropical fantasy land. Juniors, Seniors, and their dates sat down to a meal of exotic fare and tropical fruit, then danced to their favorite island beats.

Dawn Boubong contemplates her plans for the upcoming weekend.

Amie Kolts laughs it up with friends, Sophomore John Tetlick and Senior Cyndi Magness as they proudly display their computer chip.

Tony Huber and Chris Osterman race for Stacey Roth's affection.

Sheri Miller shuffles through and organizes her notes to study for her final exams.

As David Hughes makes a mad dash to class, he's ahead of the crowd.

Rainie Ajaski, Mara Winters, and Loretta Gore get details on some classmen by an anonymous friend.

Sophomore Alisa Hendrix checks out the upper-classmen in her classes. It was more interesting than sleeping or taking notes.

Lunchtime at the ramadas found an unidentified coat dining with Brian Zuyer, Audrey Ticknor and Mike Ehmann.

"Help me Cassy, don't let them take my picture", exclaims Dave Elms. "Don't worry, Dave, I think I am brave enough", states Cassy Britton.

"Why do we always have our right foot out at the same time?", asks Armida Gonzales to her friends Angela Clark and Kelly Miller.

"Yeah, we love the Camelback cafeteria food," says Tess Potter, in spite of her friends Mike Hernandez and Kristie Fancher's conflicting opinions.

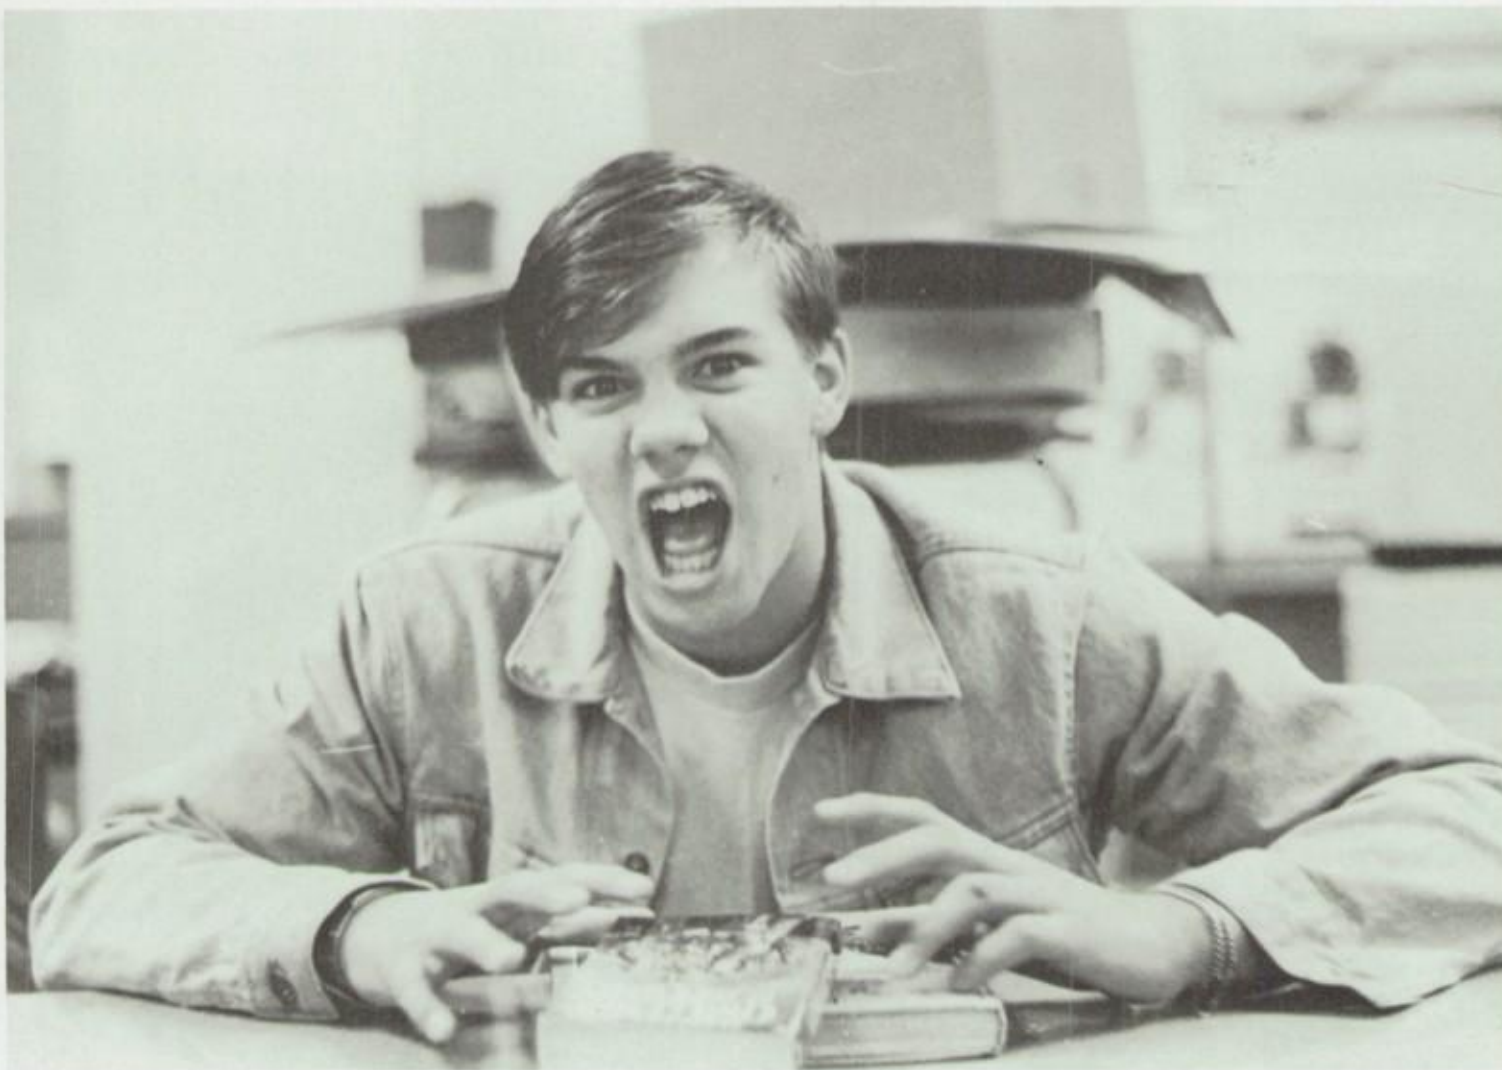

Doug Wickenberg chats with a friend about the cold, cold weather.

Strolling along the breezeway, Ben Young and Brian Speese discuss future J.R.O.T.C. plans.

Sophomores Ashley Yocum and Alisa Berman listen to upperclassman Andrew Lawson explain how to be a Junior.

"No!!! I don't want to dissect that frog it's icky!" exclaims Matt Brown.

Brandi McCormack wants her measurements exact.

Deanna Yoder concentrates on typing.

Michelle Huskey gasps as her friend drops her favorite peanut-butter, marshmallow cream, and banana sandwich.

Brandn Paul makes sure nobody's watching as he approaches the snack-bar window.

Junior Noah Tincher and Robin Stiefvater have made an agreement that won't be broke again, or else.

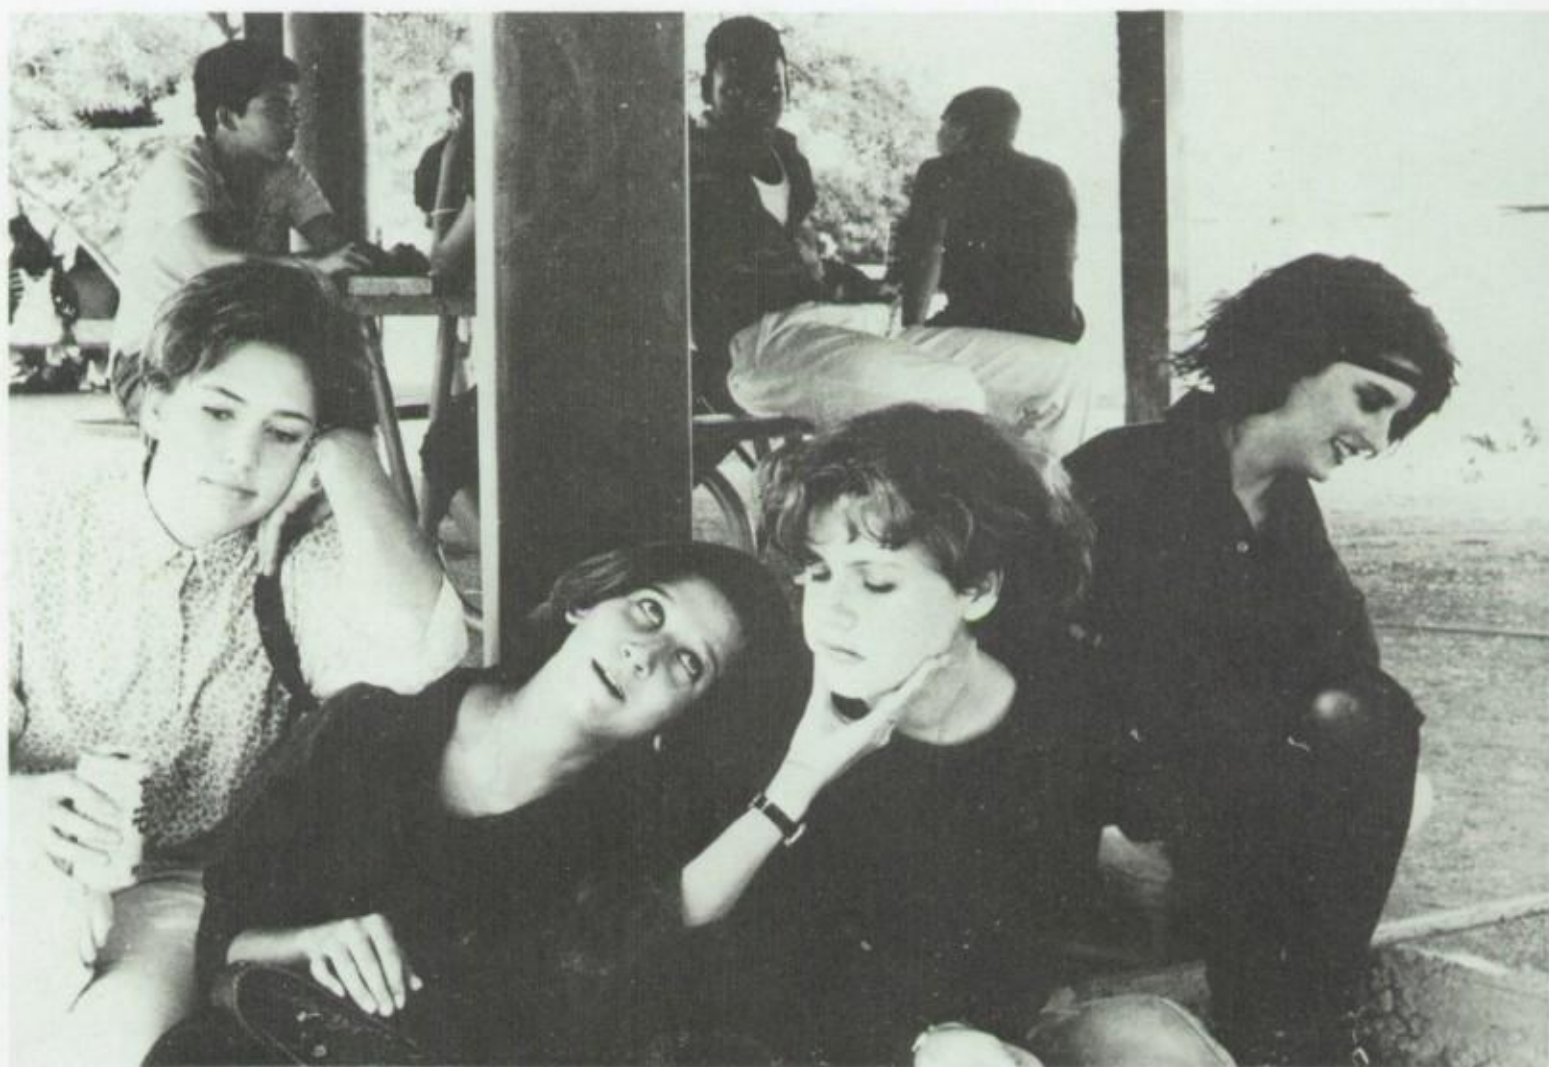

Can you guess who these people are standing in the middle of the ramada? It's the Camelback fifth hour lunch bunch!

When sophomore Kristie Parker talks, Coach Kellen's second hour class just has to listen!

Brinda Magness has high hopes for her rolls of undeveloped film as they are crucial pictures for the yearbook.

Nicole Myers tries desperately to cheer up friends Kristie Roster and Shirley Eaton as she already succeeded with Lisa Cross.

Christy Thomas smiles as she glances at her watch and notices it's lunch time.

Mary Kate Kriener explains how she just can not decide whether or not to have lunch at the snack bar.

Howard Potter determines whether or not to use a picture of Danny Gomez or Bob Burk in his class report.

Carrie Braccamonte is cheerfully looking through a magazine.

Brad Vandersee walks up the stairs to a early morning class.

Joleen Quitugua and Julie Talley wait in the middle of the breeze way to see if anyone they know happens to walk by.

Freshman Class Council And Officers

After arriving at a new school and becoming used to a different routine, the next task facing the class was to raise money. Making pizzas was one thing they did. They made pizzas in the cafeteria then froze them and later sold them to neighbors, relatives, and friends. Among other ideas used to raise funds were a 'Slave Day'. The idea was to sell freshman to upperclassmen to be their slave for the day. "Freshman are usually stereotyped, but you really can't tell who is a freshman because everyone blends in", commented Heather Sickafoose, Freshman Class President.

The council usually meets once a week in the library or under the ramadas. One big project which included hours of work was the Homecoming Banner. Materials were mostly donated by members of the class. "The Freshman Class Council are all friends", Heather Sickafoose also stated. The sponsors included: Mrs. Ridenhour, Mr. Johnson, Mr. Kell, and Mr. Boles.

Wendy Walker, Amanda Sneva, Shauna Mauck, and Bonnie Mueller chat about pop prices.

Nathan Short and Wes MacNeil stand around and count change.

Dan Feldman enjoys a slow stroll to his next class. The weather was too nice to hurry.

Daddy MY name's cindy

Caught in a busy moment, Dannie Record didn't realize he was photographed during English.

Formal portraits are part of Photo 1-2, Joellyn Burchi and Christine Engard, pose for the Fifth hour class' assignment. Their picture was taken under studio lights.

Denitra Oakry, Malieka Oulds, Myisha Ward, and Monique Roffe enjoy Spring. Sylvia Castellanos, Vikki Wafflard, and Johanna Koury discuss campus happenings.

David Clements, Bradley Cutlip, Frenay Montante, Michael Webster, Dennis Sun and Baltazar Gamboa get ready to repeat: "Mr. Heberer says drawing is too fun".

Ingrid Bacanegra, Wal Fuentez, Bambi Sherwood, Rixalde Sherwood, Jami Sherwood, and Gabe Fuentez watch the Spartan wrestlers win.

Wendy Trobman listens intently to a friend on the breezeway.

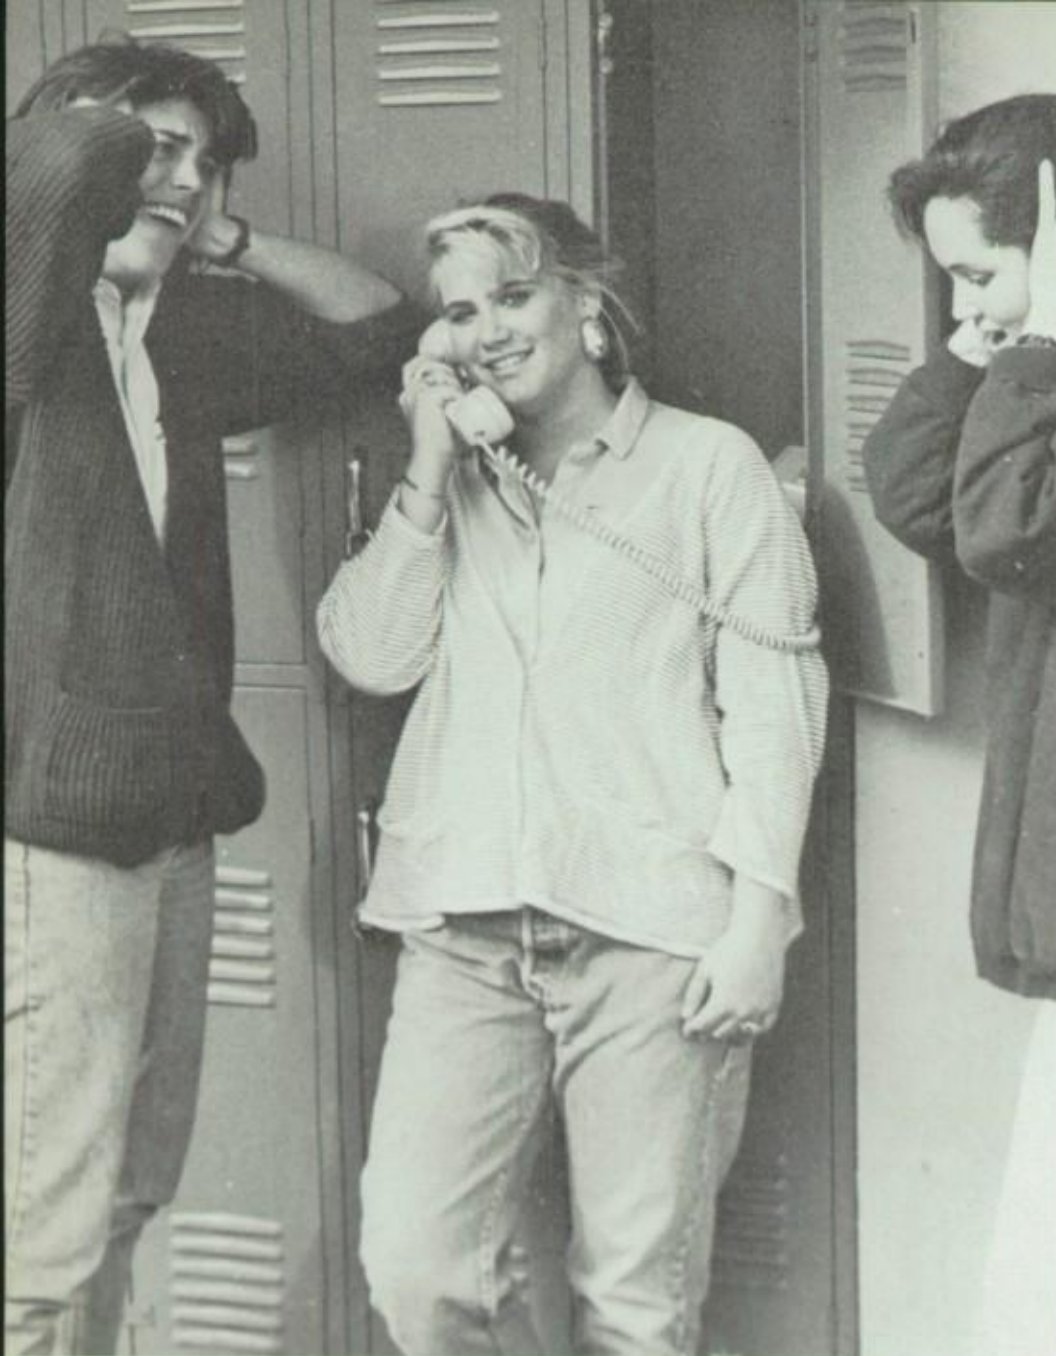

"I'm looking at the camera", states Elizabeth Armentas, as she takes a break from English.

Jim Speese grins as he reads an exciting passage in his English Class.

The breezeway is one place to find Freshmen states Mike Roley.

Mr. O'Connell

Upgrading the school's appearance, and improving the assemblies are two positive goals that Mr. O'Connell, Principal, is working towards.

Future plans include the possibility of becoming an engineering magnet school in the future.

Mr. O'Connell said The Parents in Camelback Organization is more involved this year. They sponsor a perfect attendance certificate and lottery. Others involved included Student Government and local community organizations. A reward of $40 will be given to the local student drawn in the lottery. Rules include perfect attendance for the proceeding week.

The principal cited the DECA and Blade canned food drive as the outstanding club effort of the year. Over 11,000 cans were collected for St. Mary's food bank. This was the second largest contribution from a school in the valley.

Other clubs and their sponsors who contributed to Camelback's successful image were the Debate Team, Forensic Squad, and Masque and Gavel. Ms. Tully, Ms. Goldson, Mr. Gerlock, and Mr. Spears were the sponsors.

Mr. Powers

The Academic Decathlon worked long hours to prepare to debate and write essays in all academic areas. The results were then ranked against other high schools.

The Foreign Language Dept. raised money and collected various goods to help support an orphanage in Mexico. They also participated in the Foreign Language Fairs in French and Spanish.

Many hours were put into club activities by students and teachers. Each of these efforts helped to strengthen Camelback's image.

Dr. Kraft is among many teachers who are retiring. She has been teaching for 23 years. Paradise Valley High, Carl Hayden, and Camelback High, are among the schools in which she has taught.

She enjoys teaching English and I-Seminars. She doesn't have any subjects that she doesn't enjoy teaching, she says she is willing to teach any subject as long as the students are willing to learn. Her overall preference in teaching is 11th and 12th grade, but then again she will teach any grade as long as the students are willing to give 100%.

Dr. Kraft attended A.S.U. and earned a Ph.D. Her special hobbies are reading, gardening, and building. When asked what she plans on doing after she retires, she replies, "Who knows, maybe I'll become a bag lady."

Mrs. James

It seems everyone knows the archery teacher, Mrs. James, who in her opinion has been teaching here for "forever." Before working at Camelback, she taught at Gilbert High School for 3 years and in Fresno, California. She has won many archery awards including, in her college days, a perfect tournament at A.S.U. that is still standing. She has been the U.S. Clout Champion 3 or 4 times. She won 1st and 3rd place in Las Vegas, 1979 National Coach Archery, District Coach of the Year, and Arizona Teacher of the Year in 1981. The teams which she taught have been State Champions for 18 years, National Intermediate Champions for 17 years, and Clout champions for almost 17 years. They hold the U.S. Jr. Clout record, U.S. Intermediate Clout record, and State Wand. The wand is 40 meters and you have to shoot $\frac{1}{2}$ of the diameter's shaft into a 2 inch tape, this is done at State. Mrs. James went to the Olympics where one of her old students almost made the team.

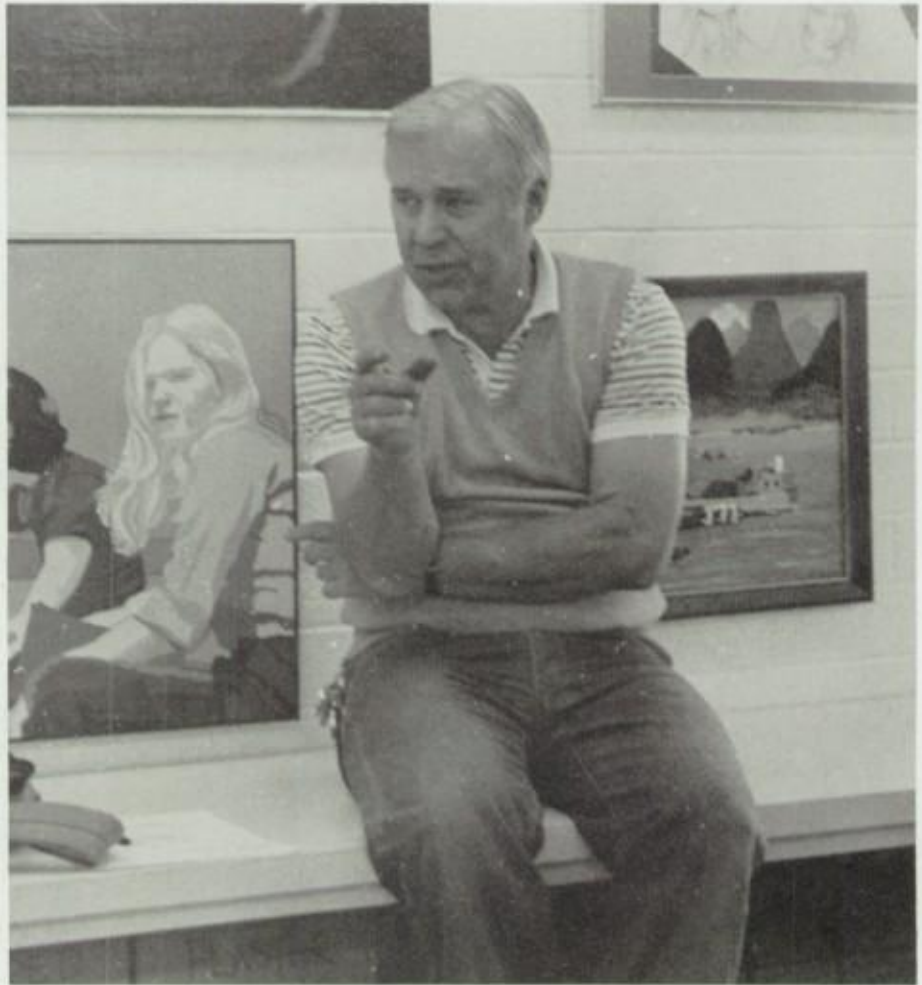

Mr. McDermott

Mr. McDermott retired from Camelback this year. He has taught for $36\frac{1}{2}$ years and has enjoyed each and every minute of it. Besides teaching he also coached sports for 26 years. In May of '86 he was awarded a plaque from the Arizona Coaching Association Hall of Fame for all of his hard work.

Mr. McDermott has a very special way of bringing happiness and smiles to us all. He has worked hard to help each student in every way that he could by just giving them a little encouragement. He thanks the students and staff for making his last year here at Camelback very enjoyable.

Camelback Prime Time Homecoming

October 24 marks the day of Camelback's victorious Homecoming. Some of the highlights of the homecoming week were spirit filled activities such as "Comic Day", "Hawaii 5-0 Day", and Homecoming Day itself. The climax of the week was the football game.

At 7:30, Friday night, the game that everyone was waiting for began. The evening was tense and the scores were close. As a matter of fact, in the fourth quarter, Central high school and Camelback were tied with a score of twenty-one to twenty-one and in the last minute and forty-four seconds we scored our victory touchdown making the final score twenty-eight to twenty-one.

At Half-Time, floats by the Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes paraded around the field. At that time, the crowds waited for the winners to be announced. And the winners for the floats were ... the Junior class with the theme from "Gilligan's Island." Then the anxiously-awaited was announced, the King and Queen of Homecoming — and they were ... Clifford Gaines and Tammye Devorce!

After the game Clifford and Tammye got the privilege of having the stage to themselves at the Homecoming dance which was held until midnight.

Pedro Noe is an exchange student from Spain. He is eighteen years old and is staying with the Vogels. He finds CBHS very exciting. He says the variety of people and the rich diversity of culture is very enjoyable. He describes CBHS as a "teenage club", owing to the various activities and clubs. The openness of the people is also great, and he is having a good time enjoying the company of his friends. He belongs to the S.N.H.S. and the Ski Club. Here at Camelback, Pedro takes Am. History, Am. Government, Az. History, Health, Free Enterprise, Spanish, English and World Geography. That may seem like a heavy load, but it is light compared to his schedule in Spain: Latin, Math, Literature, English, German, Constitution, Philosophy, P.E., Religion, History and Speech. Camelback is very different from his school back home, he says. There electives cannot be taken until 11 and 12 grades. Instead of the students changing classes, the teachers go from class to class. There are a few sports clubs, but school is really a place to study. Also, the school day goes from 9 am- 6 pm with a 2 hour break from 2-4 pm. Pedro's favorite activity is traveling. He has participated in exchange programs in England and Ireland. Music is also of interest to him, modern preferably, but he won't pass up a little folk music, if it has some rythmn. Since he has come to America, Pedro has been to New York, Denver, San Diego, Tucson and Los Angeles. Disneyland is one of his favorite places so far. Pedro's dream for the future would be to move to the U.S. and study law. But what will probably happen is that he will return to Spain next summer and start his career in Barcelona. Maybe in 2 or 3 years he will return to the U.S.

Ignacio Pena Roig, (better known to some as "Nacho"), is a foreign exchange student from Spain. He is seventeen years old and is staying with the Garvey family. He is taking Computer math, Az. History, Am. History, Am. Government and, of course, Spanish. He is greatly enjoying Camelback, because it is completely different from his school in Spain. He also likes Phoenix, and describes it as a "big city that he is sure is growing every day." At Ignacio's school in Spain, he took Math, Literature, History, English, Spanish, P.E., Physics and Chemistry. Religion and a Business class rounded out his full schedule. He says the classes are hard, but so much fun that you don't care. His school back home is all boys, like Brophy here, and he says that Camelback is much easier. Ignacio belongs to the S.N.H.S. and would like to try out for the baseball team in February. Sports are one of his favorite things. He also enjoys traveling. Since coming to America, he has gotten to travel quite a lot. He has been to California, and visited Disneyland, the beaches and museums. Here in Arizona, he has visited all the National Parks and the Indian Reservations. He also has been to Sedona, Globe, Tucson, and Flagstaff.

Future plans include college in Spain, studying business or science. He hopes to come back in the future, though. He is very pleased with his experience as an exchange student. He has had a great time and made some exceptional friends.

Jessy Geertsema, eighteen, is visiting us from the Netherlands. She is staying with her host family the Tom Lundwall, and their daughters Andrea and Veronica Bumb. She takes Computer, Pre-Cal, Speech, Drama, Am. Government and English. She says that these classes don't take up much of her time, and her schedule does seem easy in comparison to her rigorous schedule of English, Dutch, German, Math, Physics, Chemistry, Biology, and Economy she takes back home. Jessy says that she had more freedom in the Netherlands, that your homework and attendance was your own responsibility. Her school was smaller, too, it had a body of about 100 students, but was considered middle size. "Camelback is a lot of fun", she says, and she stays busy with playing and watching sports, her Cello and various Clubs that she belongs to: Masque & Gavel, Debate, and Mock Trial. Phoenix is very different from her home town, bigger and more spread out, but Jessy enjoys the climate and finds it remarkable that it could be raining or snowing back home while the sun shines here. She has traveled around Arizona with her host family and has already visited the Indian Reservations, Sedona, and Jeronme. She also went to Tucson with the Volleyball team. Her future plans include attending University of Rottendan or Amsterdam and majoring in business. She would like to come back to the U.S., or maybe to England after graduation for an extra year at an international school. Her career plans include lots of travel to exotic places like India and maybe a home in Brazil.

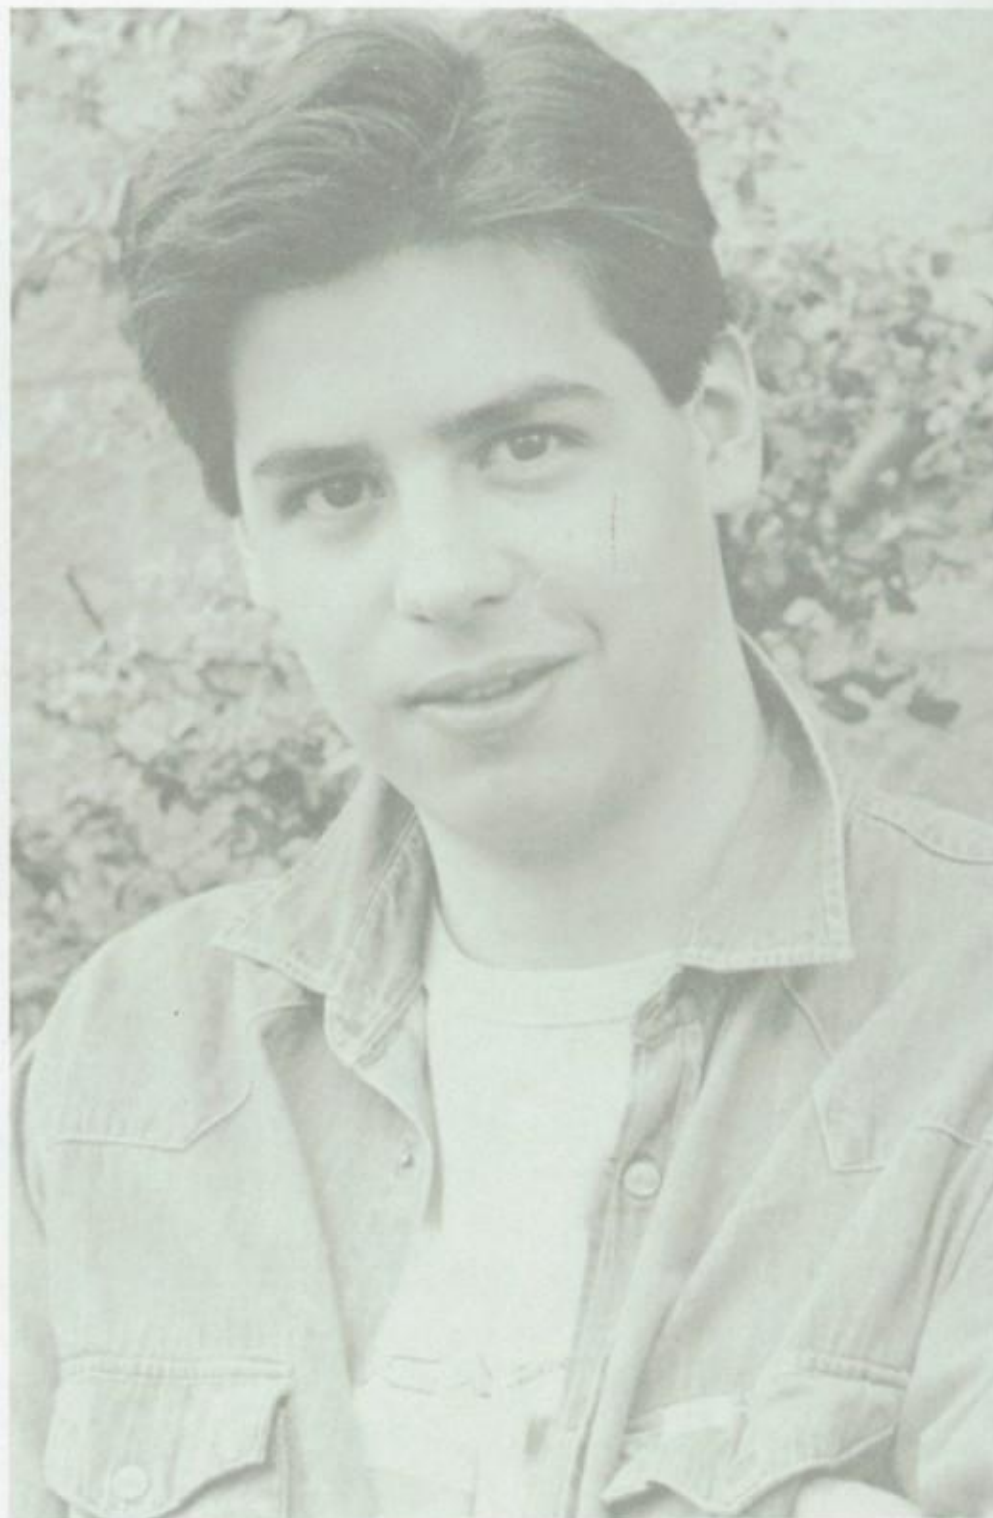

Lotte Dock is a foreign exchange student from Denmark. She is 17 years old and is staying with sophomore Amy Oakai and family. The classes she is taking at Camelback are: French, Human Relations, Drama, Speech, Physics, and English.

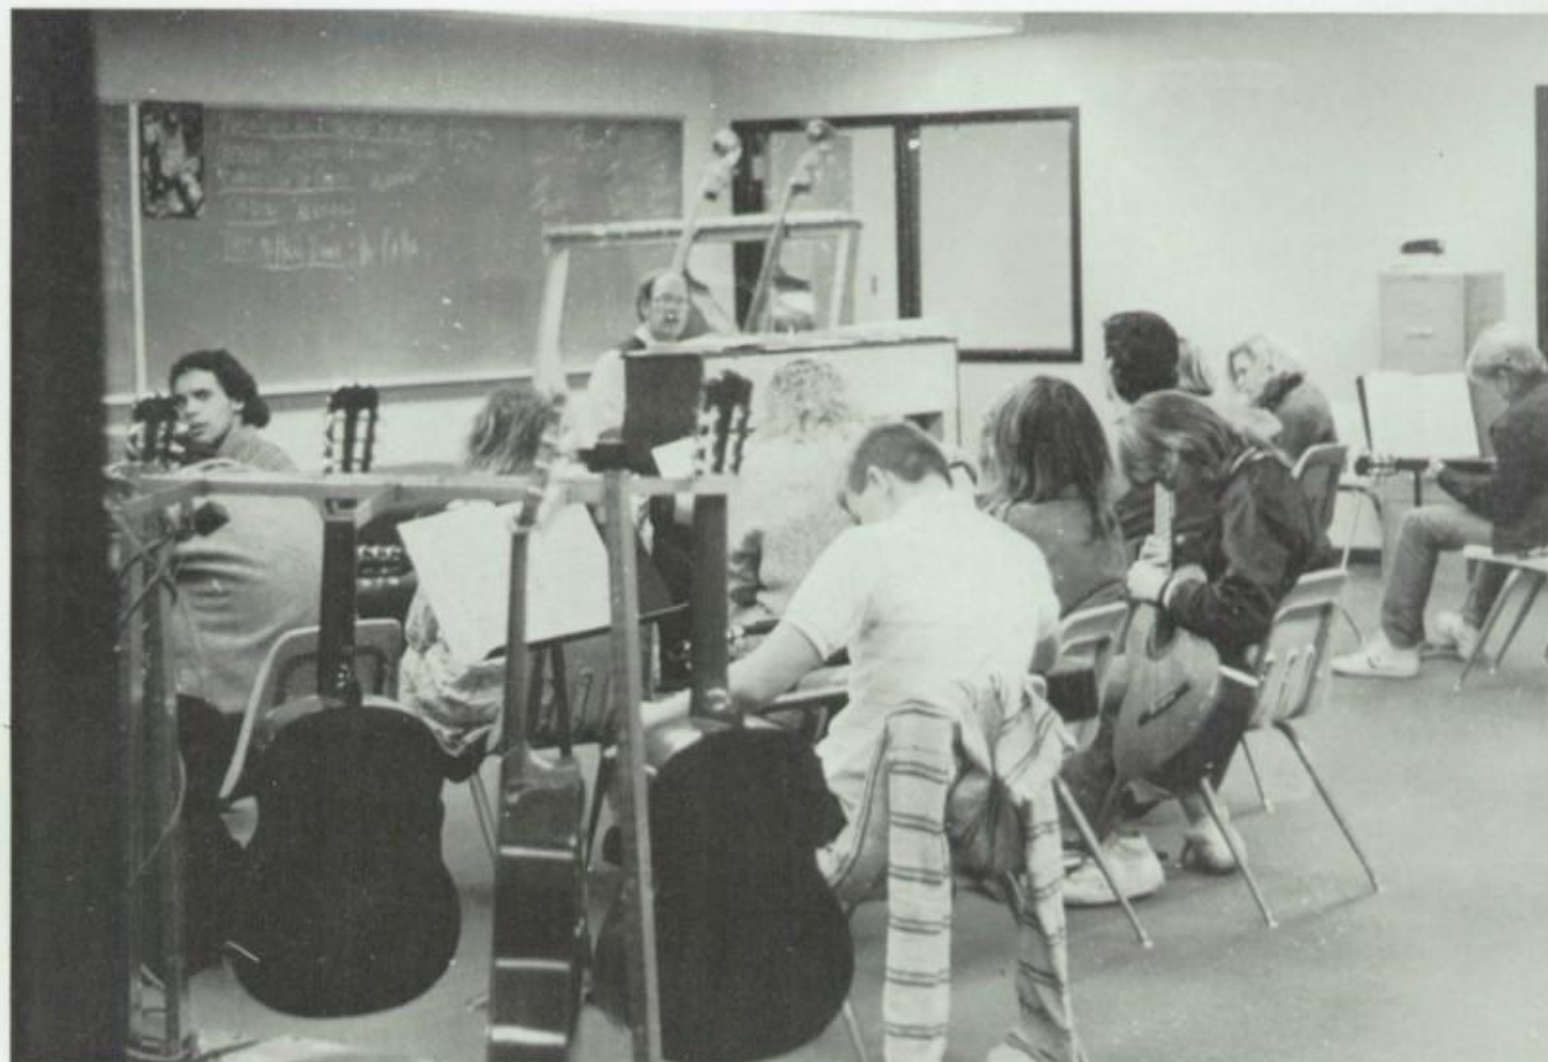

When asked what she thinks of Camelback and Phoenix, she says she likes attending Camelback and she is fascinated by all the clubs and other activities. She also mentions that she likes the school spirit, something that she doesn't have at home. Her comments about Phoenix are that it is really big and she loves the weather, but she also says that Copenhagen is not bad either. Since she has been in America, she's been to California, Las Vegas, Wyoming, Yellowstone National Park and Tucson. The classes she attends in Denmark are Physics, Calculus, French, Chemistry, History, and English. The school that she was attending in Denmark, has about 500 pupils and is much smaller than Camelback. Her home school is much more into studying than sports, and activities. Lotte's hobbies are playing Badmitton and Tennis. She loves to ski (down hill), and is interested in Math and Chemistry. She also loves to play the piano. Since her stay at Camelback, she's participated in Masque & Gravel, Model U.N., and is in the Ski Club, and was on the Badmitton team. And she comments that American Football is best on T.V., American Basketball is best live, and American Badmitton is lousy. She decided she will probably go into Chemistry or insurance in the future.

Horacio Thames- Bustos is a foreign exchange student from Argentina. He is staying with Dr. and Mrs. James Schmur. Horacio really enjoys the U.S and the American way of life. Since he has come to the U.S he has visited areas of Southern California, Utah, Sunrise, Massachusetts and is going to Washington D.C with the Close-Up Program. He describes Camelback as much easier than his school back home. There, he took 14 courses per year. Here, he is taking English, American History, Drama, Computers, American Government, Free Enterprise, French and reporting for the Spratan Blade. Horacio is in the Ski Club, Skating Club, UN, and the Art Club. His interests include Skiing, Swimming, Writting and Reading.

Marcelo Prudente do Espirto San is a Foreign exchange student from Brazil. Marcelo is 17 years old and is living with Pat and Delany Westbrook. The classes he took in Brazil were English, French, Physics, Chemisty, Biology, Portuguese and Brazillian Grammar and Literature. Marcelo said that he had the same days expect 12 classes of 50 minutes. Marcelo said that there was no way to compare school. Marcelo's hobbies are motorcross, classical music and history. Marcelo is taking Physics, America History, Chemistry, Honors Speech, Applied Economics, and American Goverment. When Marcelo was asked how he likes Camelback and Phoenix, he said at the begining it was difficult to meet people and make friends at Camelback but after summer break everything changed and ad great friends usually at the drama department. "Phoenix is good the only thing missing is a car." We aksed him what he has seen since he has been here in America he answered "California, Utah, Colorado, New Mexico, New York, Philadelphia, Maryland, New Jersey, Whington D C. and Deleware. The great things to see were to hike down the Grand Canyon, visit New York City and the Smtihsonian Intitute."

 cool chick I met this year. I'm really glad we've become friends and I hope it stays that way. Well was the year for you on what?
 keep cool and stay out of trouble. Well
 I just want you to know that if you even do run into some trouble or need some one to talk to I'll always be here so don't hesitate O.K.
 Give a fun summer party! Take care and good luck in many years to come and with the guys don't let no one get you down. Well stay pretty and get them guys excited (hard on eh)
 But stay with Sean (cute cousin)
